ROOSEVELT TO HAVE SMITH'S FULL SUPPORT

LEADERS WANT GARNER TO SWING INTO WEST

BY R. H. HIPPELHEUSER
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt and the man he termed the "happy warrior"—Alfred E. Smith—will share the platform in democracy's closing campaign rallies in New York.

This became a certainty today as Democratic chieftains, desirous of further campaigning by Speaker John N. Garner, awaited a decision from the vice presidential nominee on a proposed tour of the west.

The standard bearer of the Democrats and his predecessor at Albany—who effected a reconciliation at the state convention two weeks ago—will headline the programs at the Brooklyn Academy of Music Nov. 4 and at Madison Square Garden Nov. 5.

Aside from the Roosevelt rallies, former Governor Smith, his office announced late today will make the following tour after an address Oct. 19 at Tammany Hall:

Oct. 24, Newark, N. J.; Oct. 27, Boston and Providence; Oct. 29, Buffalo; Nov. 2, Troy.

The Newark and Boston addresses, Smith's office said, will be broadcast over a nationwide radio hookup. The former, it was indicated, would be in the nature of a reply to Calvin Coolidge's recent New York address.

In his speeches, Smith is expected by party leaders to give a complete endorsement of Gov. Roosevelt's candidacy.

The 1928 presidential nominee will also address a dinner Oct. 26 in honor of Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, president of the Women's Organization for Prohibition Reform. This will be a non-partisan affair.

ROBINSON ACTIVE

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—A disposition to deal favorably with Republican independents in the senate who support the national Democratic ticket, was outlined by Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, today at the Hyde Park home of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Talking in the long drawing room of the Roosevelt home shortly before he went picknicking with Mr. and Mrs. Roosevelt, Robinson said he believed the national platform made necessary prompt modification of the Volstead act, and that he would join in cooperating to that end.

Discussing the Republican independents who are joining in supporting the Democratic presidential nominee, Robinson said: "I don't see any occasion for penalizing anybody for supporting the national ticket. . . . Some important committee posts would be involved in any reorganization by the Democrats that would follow the election of a Democratic majority."

Robinson said he believed prompt action to permit the sale of beer would follow the success of the Democratic ticket.

Claim Republicans Paying For Pledges

Washington, Oct. 15. (AP)—The National Progressive league, an organization supporting Governor Roosevelt, issued a statement tonight saying it had evidence that "responsible republicans in charge of radio broadcasting in behalf of President Hoover" are hiring unemployed men to broadcast "canned" statements saying they are for the president.

The statement quoted an affidavit by a Washington taxidriver named Carl Abeel, which said he was paid $10 for such service by a man giving the name of Whiting Williams, who told him he could be reached through French Strother, President Hoover's "literary secretary," at the White House.

Macomb Budget Cut By 2½ Millions

Mt. Clemens, Mich., Oct. 15 (AP)—The Macomb board of supervisors by drastic reductions has cut two and one-half million dollars from the 1933 county tax bill. Economies were effected by eliminating 24 drains from the assessment roles, Covert road refunding and a decision to return to the township unit plan of poor relief.

Truck Overturns, Driver Is Killed

Detroit, Oct. 15. (AP)—Louis Barkovich, 22, of Paw Paw, was killed today when a truck loaded with grapes which he was driving overturned after hitting a safety zone standard. Charles Mihelich, 25, who was with him, was uninjured.

"Escanaba Day" Will Be Tomorrow

Boy Passes A Year In Coma

Exactly one year ago on the 21st of October Joe Huggins, then 8, was stricken by sleeping sickness and went into a coma. He has never been conscious since. But physicians now belive that time may effect a cure and that he may suddenly awaken. Joe is able to open his eyes now, something he couldn't do a few months ago, although he doesn't see what is going on around him. Here you see the unconscious boy being fed with goat-milk, his only food, by Mrs. J. T. Rider. She took Joe into her Memphis, Tenn., home when his father was unable to care for the boy.

Claim Daughter Is Immoral, Parents Seek To Oust Her

Lansing, Oct. 15. (AP)—A hearing on a circuit court order for Miss Helen Kotek, 21, to show cause why she should not be barred permanently from her parents' home was postponed by Circuit Judge Leland W. Carr Saturday because the prosecutor's office had not obtained service of a summons upon her. The injunction was sought by the girl's parents who charged she was of "poor moral character."

CURTIS INJURED IN AUTO MISHAP

Vice President Figures In Collision On Utah Highway

Salt Lake City, Oct. 15 (AP)—Vice President Charles Curtis, suffering from a strained right shoulder resulting from an automobile collision while he was enroute here today from Ogden, Utah, entered upon a program which included attendance at a football game this afternon, dinner this evening with Senator and Mrs. Reed Smoot and a public address in the Mormon tabernacle later.

The vice president's injury occurred when the car in which he was riding with Senator Smoot, Ernest Bamberger, Republican national committeeman for Utah, and Colonel Sherman Bullock, his aide, collided with a machine driven by Mrs. M. Pechart, 67, of Wendover, Utah. Mr. Curtis, sitting in the rear seat, was thrown violently forward and his right side and shoulder were hurt.

Injury Not Serious

A physician who examined him after his arrival here said the ligaments were strained. Although the injury was pronounced painful, it was declared not to be serious and save for handshaking, was not expected to interfere with the remainder of the vice president's program here.

Mrs. Pechart, driving along the highway in the same direction as the Curtis party, was ordered by motorcycle police to pull off the pavement and stop her car for the official machines to pass. She turned to look at the cars behind her, the wheels of her machine struck loose gravel beside the pavement and the car skidded, half turned and crashed into the side of the Curtis car.

The vice president's first concern was for Mrs. Pechart as soon as he had regained his composure.

"My sympathy is for that woman," he said to Colonel Bullock. "Go and do everything that can be done for her comfort."

Mrs. Pechart was shaken up but unhurt. There was only a slight delay and the vice president proceeded in another car.

He was taken through the business district upon his arrival here and afterwards to his hotel.

COMPILE DATA AGAINST INSULL

Records Will Be Taken To Greece For His Extradition

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—Systematic preparations for the extradition from Greece of Samuel Insull, Sr., despite the first set back, were launched today in Washington by two assistant state's attorneys from Chicago in cooperation with state department officials.

Charles A Bellows and Andrew Vlachos, the Chicago attorneys, arrived this morning and immediately went into conference with Joseph R. Baker, extradition expert of the department.

After the conference Bellows said he and Vlachos were compelled to abandon their plan to sail for Europe October 19 and will remain in Washington until they get additional depositions from witnesses in the Chicago proceedings against Insull, so as to have complete legal records to take to Greece.

Treaty Not Ratified

State department officials still decline to say what their next step in the case will be, but the care with which the records are being assembled indicates a desire to be ready to prove to the satisfaction of Greek officials that the indictments against Insull are for crimes for which refugees may be surrendered under the Greek law.

The extradition treaty negotiated between Greece and the United States, which is not yet effective because there has not been an exchange of ratifications, includes both larceny and embezzlement among the crimes for which refugees may be surrendered. Should this treaty be made effective within a few weeks it might simplify the procedure for Insull's extradition should other efforts fail, even though its bearing retroactively might be in question.

Neither the Illinois officials nor state department officials seem to be apprehensive that Insull will make any immediate effort to leave Greece. Rumors from Athens that he was preparing for a trip to Turkey are not credited in Washington official circles.

Hawaiian Governor Visiting In States

Hartford, Mich., Oct. 15. (AP)—Governor Lawrence M. Judd, of the territory of Hawaii, accompanied Harry Hewitt, attorney general of the islands, on a visit to Hewitt's old home town Saturday night where the two officials were feted at a banquet in their honor at the Hartford house. Governor Judd will leave Sunday for Chicago and then will go to San Francisco. Hewitt will remain here a week and then join the governor. Hewitt spent his boyhood in Hartford

STORES OFFER REAL VALUES ON THAT DAY

SHOPPERS TO COME FROM FAR AND NEAR

PROCLAMATION

On Monday, October 17, the Retail Merchants of the city of Escanaba are joining together in the greatest co-operative sales event offered to the shopping public of the Upper Peninsula. As Mayor of the city of Escanaba I officially designate Monday, October 17 as Escanaba Day and urge all residents in the Escanaba trade territory to participate in the event.

Business provides employment. One industrial activity encourages another. The only real solution to present economic conditions is the creation of employment. Every purchase made on Escanaba Day will hasten our return to normal business conditions.

Commodity prices appear to be on the rise and if this continues the future will show that prospective purchasers were wise in taking advantage of the exceptional bargains being offered by Escanaba merchants.

It seems eminently fitting and proper that one day in the year be set apart and designated as Escanaba Day and that on that one civic day we join in aiding and promoting local industry and business. I do therefore hereby proclaim and designate Monday, October 17 as Escanaba Day and urge that every citizen take advantage of the splendid opportunity presented to them on that day.

Signed
CARL J. SAWYER, Mayor.

Escanaba's "more than a mile of retail stores" are all in readiness for the opening of the second annual Escanaba Day bargain sales event 9 o'clock Monday morning. The cooperative merchandising program is being carried out under the direction of the retail merchants division of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce.

Harold P. Lindsay, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, stated yesterday that the committee is confident that this year's Escanaba Day sale would surpass the highly successful event of last year. Exceptional bargains are offered Monday, Mr. Lindsay said, and the program features, including the offering of more than five hundred dollars worth of gifts to shoppers, are expected to have strong pulling power.

Stores will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Merchants are increasing their clerical forces for the day so that the large number of shoppers can be quickly accommodated.

A large number of out-of-town people are expected to come to participate in the Escanaba Day bargains.

Irish Free State And England Fail To Reach Accord

London, Oct. 15 (AP)—Representatives of the Irish Free State and the British government failed today to arrive at terms to end the economic warfare between the two countries, and the negotiations were abandoned.

J. H. Thomas, British dominions secretary, announced after two days of discussion with President Eamon de Valera of the Free State that the result had been failure and that the status of the issues between the two countries remained unchanged.

Mr. De Valera and his colleagues announced they were returning immediately to Dublin.

Details of the negotiations were kept secret. Mr. Thomas said that parliament would be informed on Tuesday, when it reconvenes.

Man Convicted Of Breaking, Entering

Muskegon, Oct. 15 (AP)—William O'Donnell, of Detroit, is held here for sentence, following his conviction on a breaking and entering charge. He was arrested at the rear of a store with $3,500 worth of wearing apparel in a truck. Acting as his own lawyer, he claimed two other men who escaped, had forced him at the point of revolvers to go to the store.

Hoover Denies Democratic Charge Stock Mart Crash Caused Business Disaster

BY JOHN F. CHESTER
(Associated Press Staff Correspondent)

Public Hall, Cleveland, Oct. 15 (AP)—President Hoover asserted tonight, while a police-estimated throng of forty thousand people listened, that Democratic leaders had circulated "absolutely untrue" reports as to the origin of the nation's economic strain and had issued "contemptible statements" concerning his personal career.

Greeted With Ovation

Given an ovation as he entered the auditorium—the same hall where Calvin Coolidge was nominated in 1924—the president time and again launched out in his lengthy address against statements he quoted from speeches by "the Democratic candidate."

He asserted that the Democratic nominee had sought wrongly to give the impression that the stock market crash was " the prime cause of this disaster."

He characterized as "amazing statements" quotations from "the Democratic candidate" that the Smoot-Hawley tariff was "one of the most important factors in the present world-wide depression."

Interrupted time and again by applause, the chief executive's speech came as the climax of a day in which he spoke from the rear platform of his special train as it crossed four states to throngs estimated by police to total more than 100,000.

The president's audience tonight was divided into four parts, three of the sections listening through loud speakers in other sections of the auditorium and outside. He was introduced by David S. Ingalls, Ohio Republican gubernatorial nominee.

The president, dressed in a gray business suit, stood before the microphones quietly smiling as the crowd applauded and the band played.

Warns Against Change

He stopped the ovation after less than two minutes by raising his arms.

Before he began his prepared address, the president said he wished to "commend to the people of Ohio, their Republican nominees for both state and national offices."

Interpolating further, he said he had come to Cleveland because of "the depth of my feeling" that it is of "vital interest to the nation that the war against economic forces now in progress should be carried on under a Republican administration."

A change in leadership, he asserted, might change the "present victorious progress into defeat."

The president read his address without gestures, taking his eyes occasionally from the manuscript to survey his audience.

Then, turning to his own personal record, he described as "calumny" a statement from a "copy of instructions issued by the Democratic national committee' to its speakers. He said the statement implied he had "engaged in the slavery of human beings" through contracting cheap Chinese labor in his early engineering days. He denied having employed such labor in the South African mines.

"I happen to have in the files in Washington, from the man who first penned those lies," he said, "a statement under oath, humbly

GARNER URGED TO MAKE TOUR

Speaker Feels Swing Into West Now is Not Necessary

BY R. H. HIPPELHEUSER

New York, Oct. 15. (AP)—Democratic chieftains, desirous of further campaigning by Speaker John N. Garner, awaited today a decision from the vice presidential nominee on a proposed tour of the west.

Saying their desires had been enhanced by the reception of the speaker's address last night, the strategists have urged the nominee to head west through the corn belt to the Pacific coast.

Already, the presidential nominee, Gov. Franklin Roosevelt, has carried westward the cause of democracy.

Before the speaker returned to Washington, close associates revealed he expressd doubt as to the necessity of such a tour.

Committee Pleased

"While he wants to do everything possible for the success of the ticket," said one of the speaker's associates, "Mr. Garner feels there is no need for such an extended tour. Should the speaker decide to go west, he will surely make several more addresses in the eastern half of the country. These will probably be announced sometime early next week."

The national committee headquarters said many appeals for the speaker's appearance in all parts of the country were received late last night and today.

This address, touching as it did on government finances and budget-making, was regarded by the Democratic committee and by the congratulatory messages as one of the prime contributions of the campaign.

Garner, it was understood, would spend the week-end in the capital gathering material for further addresses—a task that also occupied the presidential nominee at his Hyde Park home.

Tunny Plans Tour

Arriving last night from Paris aboard the Berengaria, another Democratic campaigner, Gene Tunney, prepared a second tour in behalf of the Roosevelt ticket.

"The whole world is looking to Roosevelt," said the former heavyweight champion, "and I think Hoover will be the worst defeated man in the history of the Republican party except Taft, who carried only two states in 1912. The Hoover myth has completely exploded."

As Senator George W. Norris, Independent Republican of Nebraska, headed for Philadelphia for an address Monday night in behalf of Roosevelt, Senator Huey Long, in Washington, announced he would tour the northwest.

The Louisiana "Kingfish," a leader in the nomination of Roosevelt at Chicago, will take his sound truck—now famous in his native state and in Arkansas, where he stumped the state for the renomination of Mrs. Hattie Caraway.

The senator, who met Roosevelt for the first time this week, plans to meet his caravan at Bismarck, North Dakota, next Thursday. An address is also planned for Lincoln, Nebraska, Saturday.

A second home-comer from abroad, Samuel Seabury, declared his support for Gov. Roosevelt.

SALARIES REDUCED

Battle Creek, Oct. 15 (AP)—Calhoun county's board of supervisors has reduced the salaries of officeholders and employes 30 percent, cutting the annual payroll from $80,000 to $56,000

Samuel Church Will Vote For Roosevelt

Pittsburgh, Oct. 15. (AP)—Samuel Harden Church, president of the Carnegie Institute and a lifelong Republican, tonight announced he will vote for Franklin D. Roosevelt for president.

Characterizing President Hoover as "silently dry," and Vice President Curtis as "vociferously dry," Church said in a statement that his switch to the Democratic nominee is based on his opposition to national prohibition.

"I am making this choice not as a Republican or a Democrat," Church said, "but as a liberal. Washington warned his countrymen over and over again, in the farewell address, to disregard the claims of party when the interests of the nation were at stake."

PRIEST, 53, DIES

Ann Arbor, Oct. 15 (AP)—Rev. Fr. John M. Zindler, 53, who served Catholic parishes in Detroit, Belding and St. Joseph, is dead here. He resigned from his post at St. Joseph six years ago because of failing eyesight.

Promoter Must Pay Fine Or Go To Jail

Detroit, Oct. 15 (AP)—R. Clifton Rockwell, promoter of a George Washington bi-centennial celebration pageant, was sentenced Saturday to pay a fine of $1,500 or serve 15 months in prison upon conviction of obtaining money under false pretense. The complainant was a merchant who said he paid $250 on the understanding the pageant would be staged at the state fair grounds. Instead, he said, it was given in Grand River avenue.

JURY CONVICTS FORMER GUARD

Courson is Convicted of Manslaughter, Higginbotham Freed

Jacksonville, Fla., Oct. 15 (AP)—The jury in the Arthur Maillefert sweatbox death case late today found George W. Courson guilty of manslaughter and acquitted Solomon Higginbotham.

The jury was out two hours and 16 minutes before notifying Judge George Couper Gibbs it had reached a verdict. The finding was not in proper form, however, and Judge Gibbs sent the jurors back to rewrite it.

Mrs. Julia Maillefert, mother of the dead New Jersey youth, calmly looked at the floor as the verdict was read.

There was hardly a sound in the crowded court room.

Higginbotham was discharged from custody.

Courson's attorney immediately filed notice of appeal for a new trial.

A manslaughter verdict in Florida carries a penalty of one to 20 years.

Higginbotham Pleased

Courson and Higginbotham were charged with first degree murder in indictments returned by the Duval county grand jury. Maillefert died last June 3 in a sweatbox at Sunbeam prison camp. He was strangled to death on a chain, which was locked around his neck and looped about an overhead rafter.

Courson and Higginbotham contended Maillefert committed suicide rather than serve nine years for robbery.

Assistant Sec'y Of War Praises Hoover's Record

Detroit, Oct. 15 (AP)—Frederick H. Payne, assistant secretary of war, tonight told members of the Michigan division of the Reserve Officers Association of the United States that the president's solicitude for national defense "is only one of the expressions of Herbert Hoover's leadership of the whole American people."

"He has faced crisis after crisis, he has met problem after problem," Payne said. "And in every instance he has labored for the benefit of all America and for that of each individual Ameircan."

Contrasting the national defense planks in the Democratic and Republican platforms, Payne said the Republican statement is "clear-cut and precise."

Pair Arrested for Stealing Gasoline

Kalamazoo, Oct. 15. (AP)—Charged with stealing hundreds of gallons of gasoline from tank cars here during the last two months Clifford and Clyde Rose, brothers, were arrested here Saturday. Officers said Clifford Rose had syphoned three drums full of gasoline from a tank car just before they arrested the brothers.

Grocers Deny Flint Credit On Orders

Flint, Oct. 15 (AP)—Wholesale grocers of Flint, Saginaw and Bay City have notified City Manager Harry L. Hulbert that they will not extend further credit to the city on welfare grocery orders. Samuel Stowell, manager of the Flint Credit Men's Bureau, said the wholesalers hold nearly $200,000 worth of welfare orders given them by retailers.

BUCKEYES NOT ABLE TO STOP PASS ATTACK

WOLVERINES STAND OFF FIVE SCORING THREATS

BY JAMES L. RENICK,
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Ohio Stadium, Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 15 (AP)—A great Maize and Blue football team came down from Ann Arbor today and in an hour's time had beaten into submission a gallant Ohio State eleven before a crowd of some 42,000 persons.

Turning back everything the home team had to offer, the blue horde struck two times with deadly precision at the Ohio goal in the first half and a 14 to 0 victory for the Wolverine was recorded.

Scoring its two touchdowns early in the game, the men of Kipke were content to go on the defensive. Guarding carefully its 14-point lead, Michigan withstood five serious scoring threats by Ohio, each time bracing when the ball was within its 25-yard line.

Victory by Passes

It was Newman and his deadly aerial heaves that spelled defeat for the Buckeyes. From scrimmage, Ohio State gained 144 yards to Michigan's 46. But two accurately thrown forward passes, one in the first quarter when the game was only five minutes old, and the other in the second, gave the visitors a pair of markers.

Play during the entire second half was in Michigan territory, but the Wolverines always found sufficient strength to thwart every Ohio scoring attempt. Twice the ball was within the 10-yard line.

Michigan lost no time in scoring its first touchdown. Cramer's punt traveled a mere 12 yards out of bounds and Michigan took up its offensive from Ohio's 30-yard marker. A Newman pass to Everhardus took the ball to the 15-yard line and after two plays had failed Newman tossed to Regeczi for a marker.

Again in the second period after Michigan's bucking and running game had bogged down, Newman unexpectedly let loose with another of his aerials, this time to Captain Williamson, who was standing near the goal line unguarded.

Ohio State made its first offensive in the closing minutes of the first half. Stealing a page from the Michigan instruction book, Hinchman passed 20 yards to Carroll who reached the Wolverine 24-yard line before he was forced out of bounds. Hinchman and Oliphant headed the attack and the ball was carried to the three-yard line but the gun ended hostilities with Ohio in possession of the ovl.

Buckeyes Threaten

A break placed the Buckeyes in position to score again shortly after the second half started, when a lateral pass from Newman to Everhardus went astray and was downed by Gillman of Ohio on Michigan's 30-yard line. This time Ohio worked the ball to the 16-yard line where Fay robbed the home team of a touchdown by knocking a perfect pass out of Hinchman's hands as he was standing over the goal line.

After Michigan punted Ohio took the ball right back to the seven-yard line, where it failed to and abjectly withdrawing them.

HOOVER DENIES CRASH CAUSED NATION'S ILLS

"Such contemptible statements in a political campaign would be ignored were it not that they were issued by the authority of the Democratic national committee, and they would be of no interest to the American people except that it is proposed that a political party shall be placed in power over one hundred and twenty millions of people on the basis of votes secured in this manner."

At the outset, the president said his address would be devoted largely to employment and wage questions. He outlined in detail 12 policies and measures which he described as the record of his administration on this score.

Discusses Economic Strain

But before reaching this section of his speech, he turned directly to a discussion of cause of world economic strain.

"Our opponents," he began, "have been going up and down the land repeating the statement that the sole or major origins of this disruption and this world-wide hurricane came from the United States through the wild flotation of securities and the stock market speculation in New York three years ago, together with the passage of the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill, which took place nine months after the storm broke.

"I propose to discuss this assertion.

"First: Because it can be proved absolutely untrue.

"Second: Because the United States did not bring this calamity upon the world. The United States is not the oppressor of the world.

"Third: Because it can be demonstrated to be founded upon a complete misunderstanding of what has happened in the world.

"Fourth: Because any party which exhibits such a lack of economic understanding upon which to base national policies should not be trusted with the fate of 25,000,000 American families. They should not be trusted to command the battle against the most gigantic economic emergency with which our people have ever been confronted, and to bring that battle to victorious issue in the re-establishment of the functioning of our economic machine."

The president said "our opponents demand to know" why government leaders did not foresee the approach of the "disintegrating forces."

"No one can foresee the coming of fear or panic," he asserted. "I did not notice any Democratic Jeremiahs."

Contending that the thesis of the opposition as to the origin of our troubles is a wonderful explanation for political purposes, Mr. Hoover repeated several times that the leaders of the Democratic party "appear to be entirely in ignorance of" or "apparently have not yet learned of" what he said were the effects of certain post war happenings in foreign countries.

Dumping By Russia

He named the killing or incapacitating of 40,000,000 boys and men, the "harsh treaties which ended the war," the increase of standing armies of the world from 2,000,000 to 5,000,000 men, agitation in India and the revolutions in China and Russia.

"They have ignored," he said, "the effect of Russia's dumping into the world the commodities taken from its necessitious people in a desperate effort to secure money with which to carry on—shall I call it—a new deal." After naming the over production of commodities in various other countries, revolutions in still others, the abandonment of the gold standard in some of them, and a wave of 'fear that swept over our people," he added:

"Yet in the face of all these tremendous facts, our Democratic friends leave the impression with the American people that the prime cause of this disaster was the boom in flotations and stock prices and a small increase in American tariffs.

"Such an impression is unquestionably sought by the Democratic candidate when he says:

"That bubble burst first in the land of its origin, the United States. The major collapse abroad followed. It was not simultaneous with ours."

"I do not underrate the distressing losses to millions of our people or the weakening of our strength from the mania of speculation and flotation of securities. But I may incidentally remark that the state governments have the primary responsibility to protect their citizens in these matters and that the vast majority of such transactions originated or took place in the state of New York."

make a first down by inches. Again before the period was over, Ohio took up its touchdown march, but an intercepted pass by Regeczi halted the progress on the 30-yard line.

Again in the fourth period, Oliphant headed an on-rush that took the oval to the Wolverines' 12-yard line and again the Michigan line stiffened forcing Oliphant to toss an incompleted pass over the goal line.

Regeczi, the sophomore punter from Michigan, lived up to his advance notices. Time after time during the first half he kept Ohio in hot water by placing his punts out of bounds with uncanny accurracy within the 10-yard line. Later in the game, Oliver assumed the kicking duties and cut down the average considerably, the Wolverines kicking 16 times for a 35-yard average.

Statistics on the aerial game tell the story of Michigan's success. Only six times did the Blue take the air, but four of these six were completed, two for touchdowns and a net gain of 81 yards. Ohio attempted 11 and completed one for a gain of 50 yards.

Michigan succeeded completely in bottling up Ohio's two speed artists, Cramer and Carroll. Oliphant, who replaced the Buckeyes' regular quarterback, and Captain Lew Hinchman proved the only consistent ground gainers of the day, each making as much yardage as the entire Wolverine team.

Miss Angela Bartol, 16, Traunik, will represent Alger county in the Upper Peninsula Potato Queen contest, which will be held at the U. P. Potato Show in Newberry for three days, beginning next Tuesday.

Here are the girls who competed for the honor of being Alger county's queen: (Reading left to right) Sylvia Toumi, Rock River township; Angela Bartol (queen), Traunik, Limestone township; Violet Gregg, Winters, Mathias township; Stella Tyner, Munising township; Allegra Carrierre, Rock River township.

The judges of the contest at the Beach Inn hotel in Munising last Wednesday were: H. A. Wood, Munising; Mrs. Churchill, Chatham; and Mrs. J. J. Keeton, Munising.

Judge Patrick H. O'Brien, candidate for attorney general on the Democratic ticket, Allen E. Stebbins, candidate for lieutenant-governor and Attorney Jacob Toivonen of Detroit will be here today and in the evening will speak at the Legion County club.

MUNISING BRIEFS

George Miron of Houghton is here on a visit to friends and relatives over the week-end.

Geo. Alson of Marquette was in the city yesterday.

Virginia, litle daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Mercier, fractured her left elbow while playing at school. She received a very painful injury.

Henry Ziegler, who visited friends in this city during the past week has returned home to McMillan. He was accompanied back by his daughter, who spent a few days at Marquette and Negaunee. Mr. Ziegler was master tanner of the Munising Leather company's plant in the early days and has numerous acquaintances here among old timers.

Much apprehension is felt among Alger county sportsmen that the open season has done inestimable damage to partridge. The flocks were becoming somewhat numerous in this county owing to the long closed period and favorable weather conditions, but the killing of so many birds this season will have a very serious effect, some flocks, it is pointed out having been entirely exterminated.

ARMS SITUATION TANGLED AGAIN

Four-Power Conference is Turned Down By Germany

London, Oct. 14 (AP)—Two days of negotiations between Premier Edouard Herriot and Prime Minister Ramsey MacDonald resulted today in a Franco-British agreement to hold a four-power emergency disarmament conference at Geneva to deal with Germany's demand for arms equality.

But the Germans balked at this arrangement, and tonight the crisis over world disarmament centered again in Berlin. From persons in touch with the negotiations here, it was learned that American influence probably would be needed to smooth out this latest difficulty.

Italy immediately expressed her approval of the four-power parley plan. Germany, which previously had agreed to such a conference in London with certain reservations, objected to a change of venue from the British capital to Geneva on the ground that her statesmen would be re-entering an arms parley under league auspices without having been granted their claim to equality in armaments.

It was this question of equality that caused Germany recently to withdraw from the world disarmament conference at Geneva.

FEDERAL LOAN BANKS OPENED

12 Institutions Planned To Help Owners of Homes in U. S.

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP)—A chain of twelve federal home loan banks, strung across the country, opened for business today, ready to receive applications for loans on small home mortgages.

The new structure began official life without formality or celebration. At headquarters here, Franklin W. Fort, chairman of the federal home loan bank, said he was "very pleased" to announce that every one of the twelve district banks opened Oct. 15, which was the time mark set six weeks ago.

For thirty days past the banks have had subscription books open to afford member institutions opportunity to contribute capital. What was not taken logically is to be subscribed by the treasury.

Relief Loans Made

Board officials said no money is to be loaned out by the new banks immediately, but that cash will begin flowing as soon as loan applications are approved. The mortgages to be taken are limited to those on homes valued at not more than $20,000.

Other federal funds were made available for distribution today, as the Reconstruction Corporation approved a total of $1,221,855 of relief loans to six states for immediate use.

The states receiving these funds are Arkansas, $529,400; Tennessee, $193,256; Ohio, $182,887; Oklahoma, $181,312; Montana, $95,000, and Michigan, $40,000.

The home loan system is designed primarily to permit commercial companies holding mortgages to rediscount them, making more money available to increase mortgages or extend them particularly in cases where home owners are threatened with loss of the property through inability to meet payments due.

POINTS OUT NEED FOR BOND ISSUE

Relief of Unemployment Is Objective Says Bond Advocate

Gladstone, Mich., Oct. 15, (Special)—The advantages that will accrue to Delta county through issuing bonds in the amount of $60,000 for road work was pointed out yesterday by an advocate of the issue. "The primary purpose of the issue," he stated, "is relief of unemployment and the money derived from the bond sale will provide work for 200 to 300 men on a part time basis during the coming winter."

Pointing out that the bonds will be retired with money to be received from the state under the new law which distributes the weight tax among the counties of the state, he explained that no part of the cost would be borne by the taxpayers of the county in direct taxation. "Issuing bonds," he continued, "merely makes possible now the use of money that is coming to the county—and now is when the money is needed."

Unless the bond issue is approved, he said, the county portion of the weight tax funds will not be available until April of next year and the county will be unable to finance road work on any appreciable scale until after that time.

If the bond issue carries, he continued, the commission will immediately proceed with a program of road work throughout the county. This will consist of brushing, ditching, repairing and widening of roads, with the purpose of providing as much hand labor as possible. Construction work will be limited, he said, since actual building of roads does not provide as much work as does the preparation for construction.

The earliest date at which the road work can start, owing to the legal steps necessary for the sale of bonds, will be about Dec. 1.

STUDY CLUB

Mrs. Wm. Green will entertain members of the Study club Monday at her home, 1222 Dakota avenue. Tea will be served following the program which is:

Lexicon, Mrs. C. C. Strickland.
Timely Topic, Mrs. H. G. Wescott.
"The Prairie and the Making of Middle America," Dondore, Mrs. J. P. Farley.
Book Review, "A Lantern in Her Hand," Aldrich, Mrs. W. J. Mettle.

DEGREE OF HONOR

Members of the Degree of Honor and guests will hold a social meeting Monday evening at the Albert Latimer home, 707 Minnesota avenue, beginning at 8:00 o'clock. A pot luck luncheon will be served.

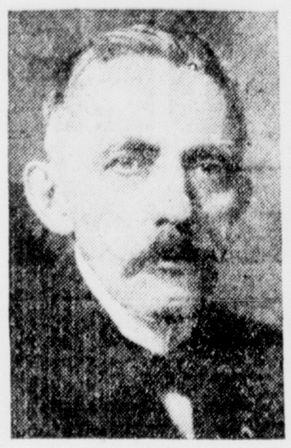
Grand Rapids, Oct. 15 (AP)—A new trial for Louis Goldberg, alias Gold, of Detroit, serving a 40 to 50 year term for bank robbery, is sought in a petition filed in superior court today. Goldberg was convicted of assisting in the escape of bandits who robbed the Grand Rapids Savings Bank of $6,089 last May.

The Fleming family of Laurens county, South Caroline, owns a bale of cotton that has been held since 1812.

Enrollment at the University of Missouri showed a decrease of 16 per cent from the 1931-32 year, with a decline of 30 per cent in the freshman class.

Out of every 100 drug addicts in the United States today, 80 are said to be men and the remainder women.

Two Delta County Men Running for Auditor General



O. B. FULLER
Selkirk Photo

O. B. Fuller, of Ford River and Lansing, and John K. Stack, Jr., of Escanaba, are the Republican and Democratic candidates, respectively, for auditor general in the coming November election.

Mr. Fuler was born in Jersey City, N. J., Jan. 22, 1858, and came to Michigan in 1869. He moved to Ford River in 1884, and for many years was engaged as a lumber inspector for the Ford River Lumber company. He was elected to the house of representatives from the Alger, Delta and Scholcraft county district in 1893, and was re-elected in 1895 and 1897. Mr. Fuller also served as state senator from this district from 1901 to 1907. He became auditor general in 1909, and has held the office ever since. In former years, he has had the unique distinction of receiving the endorsement of both Republican and Democratic parties.

Mr. Stack was born in Escanaba and has lived here virtually all his lifetime. He has been engaged in the lumber manufacturing business for more than a score years, the Stack Lumber company having extensive timber land holdings in the upper peninsula and sawmills at Manistique and Little Lake. Mr. Stack has been identified with the Democratic party for many years. He was a delegate to the Democratic national convention in Houston four years ago, and was the Democratic candidate for auditor general two years ago. He served four years on the Escanaba city council.

Garner Tributes Late Longworth

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—The first thing Speaker John N. Garner did tonight when he stepped up to a microphone to make a campaign speech was to pay a tribute to the late Nicholas Longworth, his friend and predecessor in office.

"Now I have been in congress for 30 years during Republican and Democratic administrations," said the Democratic nominee for vice president. "During that time I have learned that no man and no party have a monopoly of good intentions or of intelligence.

"It was the proudest moment of my life when I became speaker of the house. The pride I felt in attaining to what I regard as the most potent office in the government with the exception of the presidency was mitigated with a sense of the responsibility it involved.

"This was particularly so because I succeeded a great man and a great speaker, my closest, dearest friend, Nick Longworth, a square shooter if there ever was one and a Republican as devoted to the principles of his party as I hope I am to mine. We had our battles, and there was an intellectual pleasure, you may be sure, in fighting one another. For Nick Longworth was a sportsman and played the game according to the rules."

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 13 (AP)—Otis Edmonds, alternate fullback, returned to practice at the Indiana football camp today and worked with Sabik, Opasik and Jones tossing forward passes.

Lack Of Material Forced Abandoning Football At Olivet

Olivet, Mich., Oct. 15 (AP)—Olivet college has no intention of withdrawing from the M. I. A. A., or of abandoning football permanently, Dr. George E. Forster, faculty director, informed a group of M. I. A. A. coaches who sought definite information regarding the school's future plans.

"The cancellation of our football schedule," he said, "was necessitated by the lack of material for developing a football squad. It is our intention to return to competition as soon as we have sufficient material. We do have material for a basketball squad and Olivet will defend the title won last year in this sport. We also hope to engage in other sports recognized by the M. I. A. A."

Olivet recently announced intercollegiate football would be replaced by intramural games for the current season.

Body Of Man Found Dead Is Identified

St. Joseph, Mich., Oct. 15 (AP)—The body of an elderly man found on a lake front park bench here has been identified as that of A. Lundquist, believed to have been from Brooklyn, N. Y. A bottle containing poison was found in the man's pockets. Coroner Kerliskowske said death was due to suicide.

Seek New Trial for Convicted Robber

Big Rapids, Mich., Oct. 15 (AP)—A search was being made tonight for Lily Devo, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Devo, of Morley, who disappeared Thursday. Authorities believed the girl was hitch-hiking to relatives in Grand Rapids.

Old Doctor Escapes Gall Bladder Operation

An old German physician, Dr. H. E. Hildebrand, many years ago, was severely suffering from what appeared to be a Gall Stone Trouble. He was frequently subject to colic attacks, gas pains, indigestion, pain in sides, back and around the liver. Rather than to submit to an operation he decided to treat his own case. So successful was he in his efforts he prescribed the same treatment to other sufferers. The amazing results they reported is convincing evidence of the merit of this preparation. Through the Dr. Hildebrand's Laboratories, Dept. 16-P, 155 N. Union Ave., Chicago, Ill., sufferers from Gall Stone, Gall Bladder and allied Liver and Stomach ailments everywhere may obtain a test of this splendid treatment free by writing to the above address at once.—Adv.

LUCE COUNTY'S BUDGET LOWER

Reduction of Over 22 Per Cent Made by Supervisors

Newberry, Mich.—Revising of the annual tax budget downward making a reduction of more than 22 per cent less than that of last year was the work of the Luce County Board of Supervisors in session here this week. An aggregate levy of $248,565.10 is the tax budget for 1932-33 as compared with $320,611.62 which was the tax for 1931-32, making a total reduction of $72,046.52 in answer to the demand of the taxpayers for relief from the unbearable burden under which they have been existing.

The new budget for state and county is $119,996.26 compared to $154,382.33 for 1931-32, a reduction of $4,386.47. The state tax is reduced from $24,382.33 as compared with $19,996.26, a difference of $4,386.07. The entire county road tax has been saved, a saving of $18,000 which was the figure for last year. An even $100,000 is the figure allowed for strictly county purposes for the new year which is $30,000 than that of 1931-32.

Township Tax Cut

Levies for township tax which includes schools, roads and general purposes, makes a total of $128,548.84 and as compared with the figures of the budget of a year ago, which were $148,229.29 makes a saving of $19,680.45. A reduction of $10,068.71 amounting to nearly ten per cent has been made in the school and mill tax and represents the difference between $107,130.59 of last year as against $97,061.88 of the new budget.

Salaries Slashed

A 20 per cent reduction of salaries for all county officers will go into effect the first of the year, this being the first reduction given Luce county officers. The tax levy for strictly county expenses which totals $100,000 includes the following items.

Salaries	$11,400.00
Physicians and medical supplies	3,000.00
Circuit Court	1,500.00
Mother's Pensions	5,000.00
Rentals	1,000.00
Poor Fund	10,000.00
Loans & Interest	30,000.00
Elections	700.00
Supervisor's Expenses	1,200.00
Water & Light	600.00
State Institutions & Sanitoriums	11,000.00
Fuel	500.00
Good Will Farm	300.00
Mich. Children's Aid	200.00
Soldier's Relief Comm.	300.00
County Park	300.00
Payment on airport	1,000.00
Incidentals & Delinquencies	22,000.00

A reduction in total assessed valuation of Luce county to the amount of $600,000.00 has been made the 1932-33 figure being $5,400,000.00 as compared with $6,000,000.00 of last year.

County Nurse

A report current in the county is to the effect that the board is seriously considering abolishing the service of the county nurse. The matter was not settled at the close of the Thursday meeting. A delegation of people from all over the county will wait upon the board at the Friday afternoon meeting to urge that this service be continued in view of the unusual need of a health program now that financial conditions are contributing to ill health. The nursing service was established in Luce county about 20 years ago.

Two appointments are to be made by the board, one member of the County Road Commission and one member of the Board of Superintendents of the Poor. It is reported that several applicants are asking for each position.

Needlework Guild

Nearly 500 new articles of clothing and household use were collected by the local branch of the Needlework Guild of America at their annual meeting held in the community building. Of these 150 were sent to the Good Will Farm at Houghton where several Luce county children are receiving care. The rest were turned over to the United Service and to the county nurse and will be used in the county.

Reelection of all of last year's officers place the following again in charge of the work for the year of 1932-33. President, Mrs. John Brown; vice-president, Mrs. Matt Surrell; secretary, Mrs. W. J. Garrett; treasurer, Mrs. E. A. Grondin.

Following the business meeting a short program was given and tea was served. The 19 directors who did the collecting of goods wish to thank the public for the fine articles and for the splendid cooperation given them in this worthy project.

Comstock Coming

William Comstock, candidate for governor on the Democratic ticket and Prentiss Brown, Democratic candidate for congress from this district will fill speaking engagements in Newberry under the auspices of the local Democratic organization on Oct. 21. The meeting will be held in the community building at 4:30 in the afternoon and both speakers will be introduced by Mayor Philip S. Hamilton.

Mr. Comstock is not known here by local people, excepting those who have met him while out of the city. Mr. Brown, living in the neighboring city of St. Ignace and practicing law in the county more or less has many friends and acquaintances.

Political Pot

The Democrats are claiming a large vote for their ticket at the November election, stating that Luce county will roll up a vote against the administration which will startle the rock-ribbed Republican locality. Republicans allow that there will be a larger Democratic vote than usual here but that their party is still very much in control of the situation and that friends of the G. O. P. need have no fear that Luce county is going to fall off the list.

The fact that Luce county is producing two local men on the Republican ticket is conceded to mean that the Republicans will lead in these two offices. Congressman Frank P. Bohn, completing his third term will again lead his ticket and Doctor H. E. Perry, nominated for the state legislature will roll up a large vote on his party ticket. The "splits" are expected to be more national than state. However some lively excitement is sure to feature this election, usually a pretty tame affair in the last few years.

Truran Secretary Of Poor Commission

W. J. Truran is the newly appointed secretary of the Poor Commission and J. A. Barrett is the member of the Road Commission, these gentlemen receiving their appointments at the hands of the board of supervisors who completed their annual meeting on Friday night. Mr. Truran succeeds John Stephens, Sr., who has been in poor health for several years. The term is for three years. Mr. Truran is an expert accountant and kookkeeper. Mr. Barrett's appointment is for six years, he succeeding Ed Johnson who has served for some time. Both of the gentlemen take office on January 1st, 1933. There were several applications for each of the offices.

The supervisors worked hard this week, starting the daily sessions at 8 a. m. and staying late, one evening not leaving until 7 o'clock. They spent much of the time revising the budget downward, giving the local tax payers a cut amounting to about 22.5 per cent.

Salary cuts of 20 per cent, reduction of the county jail board from 90 cents to 65, reduction of their own pay from $4.50 a day to $4.00 and designating the Newberry State Bank as the official depository for the county funds, were some of the other items of their business.

No Road Tax

After a conference with the members of the road commission no tax was voted for the upkeep of roads. The commission, comprised at present of Dr. H. E. Perry, Ed Johnson and Robert Bryers, Sr., decided that they would be able to carry on the work of the road upkeep with funds from the gas and weight tax and through the proceeds from state contracts.

County Nurse

No decision was arrived at concerning the county nurse, the board members stating that as her year would not be up until January 1933 they would await conditions at that time. A delegation of persons interested in county health work and who believe that the retention of this service is necessary especially at this time, awaited on the board on Friday. The members moved into the court room upstairs to receive the group. Mrs. D. N. McLeod, active in civic affairs here for more than a quarter of a century precented the plea of the group which was comprised of Mrs. E. E. Shaw, Miss Eva Buermann, Mrs. Amos Thompson, Mrs. George Roat, Mrs. M. B. Fretz, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Neff, and Mrs. Chamberlain.

HAD SPRUCE HENS

Ben Gorham of Ypsilanti picked up by conservation men when he was found with spruce hens in his possession, pleaded guilty before Justice Fred Becks on October 14 and paid costs of $7.10 after his fine had been suspended.

AHO TAKEN TO SOO

Toivo Oho of Newberry was returned to Sault Ste. Marie on Saturday by state police who picked him up for the sheriff's department of Chippewa county. Aho had been arrested on September 22 and pleaded guilty to driving while drunk. He paid $20.00 of a $50.00 fine and was to pay the remainder within a week which he failed to do. The alternative of a fine was 60 days in jail.

NEWBERY BRIEFS

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. George Frazier of Naubinway on October 14 in the local hospital.

A large number of fans drove over to Manistique to see the foot ball game there on Saturday.

James Labrom was able to return to his home after spending six weeks in the hospital with a complication of diseases.

Miss Lucille Robinson is spending the week-end with her parents in Marquette.

Mrs. J. P. Rahilly and little daughter were discharged from the hospital on Friday.

Mine Starts Shipping

Ishpeming—The first shipment of ore from the Inland Steel company's Greenwood mine, six miles west of Ishpeming, was loaded yesterday and moved by rail to the Northwestern docks at Escanaba to be sent down Lake Michigan to the Inland furnaces at Chicago.

The first cargo was made up of 6,000 tons of hard ores, magnetic and hematite, all in lump. There is no crusher at the Greenwood, but the ore goes over a "grizzly," a small amount of the fine ore being removed.

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Sales of Safeway Stores Co. for the four weeks to October 8 totaled $17,219,692 against $16,820,506 in the immediately preceding period. The company had 3,392 stores in operation.

Rev. Cathcart Knew Sir Harry As Coal Miner

REV. D. L. CATHCART

Rev. D. L. Cathcart, well known missionary of the American Sunday School Union, is waiting anxiously for his fellow coal mine worker of two score years ago, known as Sir Harry Lauder, to come to Escanaba for a personal appearance at the Delft theatre. The famous Scotch comedian will come here Friday, Oct. 21, with a company of 28 talented musicians and entertainers.

Sang At Work

Reverend Cathcart has not seen Sir Harry since he left the mines in Scotland to embark on his stage career.

"More than 40 years ago, Harry and I worked in the Baurn Clouth mine on the Lord Ruthven estate, near Hamilton, Scotland," Reverend Cathcart recalled yesterday. "I remember well how Harry was always singing Scotch ditties or giving some recitations while at work.

"I was hauling coal from the mine in hutches or small cars, while Harry was digging the coal and loading it into the cars. I often helped him load up my hutch and when it was filled, Harry would detain me awhile to listen to some new song or recitation he had composed. One day a young man, who worked with Harry, was killed by a slide of coal. He composed a sentimental song concerning his dead friend, Jim, which he used many years later while on the stage."

Sir Harry got his start to stage fame, according to Reverend Cathcart, by singing at home talent shows in Hamilton and Glasgow. He usually received about five shillings for three songs at an evening's performance. Later, James Mace, a Scotch comedian and Negro impersonator, took an interest in the young singer and secured several concert engagements for him at Glasgow and Edinburgh. He quit the mines to travel with a concert company, which played at the small towns in the region.

Reunion Arranged.

"After a several months' tour, the show broke up," Rev. Cathcart said. "Harry returned to Hamilton without a job. He was dressed up like a real dandy, with cane and all, and while he idled around town, waiting for another call to the stage, he was the object of much teasing from his former mine companions. 'You better come back and work in the mine, or you'll starve, Harry,' they used to say.

"Harry got along, however, by picking up an engagement here and there, and finally was engaged by another traveling troupe. From then on, he advanced in his profession and won world renown."

William Schneider, special representative for Sir Harry Lauder, made arrangements while here Thursday for a meeting between Reverend Cathcart and the Scotch comedian Friday afternoon.

Republicans Will Hold More Rallies During This Week

Republicans will continue their campaign in Delta county this week with another series of political rallies, it was announced yesterday by the county committee.

Meetings will be held on the following days: Monday, South Ford River; Tuesday, Kipling; Wednesday, Escanaba township; and Thursday, Perkins.

Gov. Wilber M. Brucker will come to Escanaba for a noon meeting next Friday. The meeting will be held at the city hall. Mrs. Adalin Wright Macauley will address a Republican women's meeting at the First Presbyterian church Saturday, Oct. 22.

ESCANABA DAY

SOME might say that the Escanaba merchants must have a lot of courage when they launch an extensive cooperative merchandising event, such as the Escanaba Day event will be on Monday.

But it really is not a matter of courage, after all. Escanaba's merchants simply possess self-confidence. They know from past experience that when they get together and plan to stage a real, bang-up cooperative bargain event they are sure to be rewarded with success.

Escanaba's merchants are going to considerable expense to advertise the second annual Escanaba Day. Today's issue of the Escanaba Daily Press carries many attractive advertisements, announcing the exceptional values that are offered to shoppers on Monday. In addition, Escanaba's merchants are presenting other features, which entail heavy expenditures.

The second annual Escanaba Day sales event is going to be worthwhile for everyone. It will pay shoppers to travel a hundred miles or more to come here to share in the buying economies that can be effected.

Business is on the upgrade. Prices are going up. Escanaba stores, however, will offer probably what will be the last chance to obtain high quality merchandise at abnormally low prices.

Escanaba merchants have achieved an enviable reputation for dependable merchandising. These cooperative sales events are held only a few times annually, but the buying public has come to realize that whenever such an event is staged it promises real values.

Here's another chance to really save by spending.

THE ELECTORAL COLLEGE

THERE is much indication that the vote for president in the Nov. 8 election will be very close, and there is also the possibility that the candidate who receives the largest popular vote may not not receive the majority of electoral votes necessary for his election.

Such a situation always arouses discussion of the proposal to elect our presidents by popular vote. The system of having the president and vice president chosen by electors was adopted by the Constitutional convention as a modification of a similar system obtaining in Maryland for the selection of state senators. There was little sentiment in the convention for the popular election of President and Vice President, partly because the smaller states feared that their influence would thereby be eclipsed by that of the larger states, partly because the dominant opinion of the convention was distrustful of pure democracy.

The intent of the framers of the constitution was that the electors should deliberate freely as to their choice. This intent was frustrated by the rise of the caucus system, which developed in 1800. Indeed, lists of pledged electors had been common in 1796. The phrase "electoral college" did not come into common use until about thirty-five years ago after the adoption of the Constitution, and appears for the first time in federal legislation in the election act of 1845. Since 1889 there have been 54 joint resolutions introduced in Congress for the abolition of the electoral college in favor of the popular election of the president and vice president.

The last president to be chosen by the house of representatives, because no candidate had a majority of the electors, was John Quincy Adams in 1824. Since then, every successful candidate for President has had a greater proportion of the electoral vote than of the popular vote. There have been two cases of the successful candidate receiving a smaller popular vote than his unsuccessful rival. In 1876 Hayes received about 250,000 fewer votes than Tilden, but was elected by a majority of one electoral vote. And in 1888, Benjamin Harris received about 100,000 fewer votes than Cleveland, but obtained 58 per cent of the electoral votes.

In 1928 Smith received 41 per cent of the popular vote and only 16 per cent of the electoral vote. In 1924, LaFollette got 17 per cent of the popular vote and only 2½ per cent of the electoral vote. In 1912, Roosevelt received 28 per cent of the popular vote and only 16 per cent of the electoral vote, and Taft, 23 per cent of the popular vote and only 1½ per cent of the electoral vote.

MEDICAL EXPENSE

(Ironwood Globe)

THE finance committee of the county board of supervisors presumably is perplexed over the medical expense incurred by Gogebic county, among other things. And undoubtedly the committee is wondering how it is going to get some co-operation from the doctors of the county in trimming that expense.

Wednesday the finance committee had received budget requests from various departments and commissions of the county government in which there was anticipated a medical expense of nearly $40,000, without taking into consideration the cost to the county of maintaining Grand View hospital and without considering the demands upon the county from state institutions where medical expense is incurred.

If the taxpayers of Gogebic county are skeptical as to the item of $40,000, it might be well to enumerate some of the budget requests involving medical expense. Anticipating a heavy strain on its funds, the poor commission budgeted medical expense of $20,000 for the first district, $4,000 for the second, $4,500 for the third and $3,500 for the infirmary. The soldiers' relief commission anticipated a medical expense of $1,140. The budget request of probate court includes $1,276 as doctors' fees for care of dependent children, $802 fees for care of afflicted children, $56 for examination of feeble minded, $73 for examination of adult afflicted persons and $2,656 for their treatment by doctors, and $158 for examination of insane persons.

It would be ridiculous to intimate, of course, that some of those items are not reasonable. However, it does not seem reasonable for the taxpayers to pay out nearly $40,000 in fees to doctors when the county is hard pressed to make both ends meet and the drain upon the taxpayers has reached a point where it is almost unbearable.

The solution seems to rest with the Gogebic County Medical society and the society should show a spirit of co-operation when the finance committee is making an honest endeavor to get the taxes down to a figure that is within reason. It has been repeatedly said that genuine tax relief, for the average man, must come through his local and state taxes. They are the levies that press the hardest and in most cases they are the ones that can be most easily reduced. Getting his income tax cut doesn't help a small home owner much if city, state and county governments continue to smother him with high real estate assessments.

On the basis of a budget of $650,000 for county and county road taxes this year, a figure which the county board should not greatly exceed, the budget requests for medical expense amount to more than six per cent. Contrasts that with the expense of maintaining a health department in Ironwood during the fiscal year ending Feb. 29, 1928, when tax money was free, so to speak. That year Ironwood expended $677,611.14 and spent considerably less than two per cent of it on its health department, or $10,204.64. The last named item provided for a salary of $5,000 for the health officer, $1,800 for a public health nurse and $1,700 for a social service worker as well as other expenses of the office. In other words, it was a generous provision as compared with the health department expenditures of the average small city. But it was much less than two per cent of the total expenditures of the city.

WHAT HE IS

Man will be judged by what he is,
Not what he has. Each coin of his,
If riches are his only goal,
May make him poorer in his soul.
If he shall prize
Alone the things
That money buys,
Or money brings,
He may be poorer far than those
Who still find pleasure in a rose.
Unless that pleasure has remained,
More he has lost than he has gained.

Man will be judged by what's within,
Not what he wears. An act of sin
Makes rags of riches. Deeds of good
Make rich the poorest brother's hood.
The world thinks more
Of wealth, of style,
But only for
A little while,
And then decides the soul to scan,
Judge not the make-up but the man.
What clothes he wears, what fortune his,
Man will be judged by what he is.

CALL of the WEST

(By NEA Service) By R. G. MONTGOMERY

CHAPTER XXVIII

DONA sat huddled on the stone couch, her jacket pulled around her and her eyes blazing. "Take one step toward me and I'll—!" Dona's words tumbled out in an angry torrent.

"Scream?" Stan was smiling now.

"I'll do more than that!"

"You might let me have one of the blankets from that bed. There are five on it." Stan stood with his hands on his hips, a wicked light in his gray eyes.

"Help yourself." Suddenly Dona realized that she had been making an unnecessary fuss. Her anger did not abate, however. She had been fooled and that in itself was an insult.

"And there's a trick combination to the bed," Ball went on. He took a step forward and Dona arose. He bent and whisked a blanket from the cot, then opened the others at the top. "You crawl in at this end. If a pine needle from the mattress sticks through you reach carefully down and pluck it out. I have never had more than four bother me in one evening." His eyes were very serious.

Dona refused to join the spirit of jest. She kept remembering that she hated this killer and that she wanted to see him suffer.

Stan took his blanket and wrapped it into a little roll. "You may turn the light down and blow it out," he said as he turned toward the opening. "Good night."

Dona refused to answer. She was sitting on the bunk, thinking deeply.

The scraping of Stan Ball's boots died away outside and the girl was forced to believe that he had gone. She got up and walked to the entrance. Ten steps town the stone corridor showed her what she wanted to know. Her captor sat with his back against the cliff, his long legs stretched out across the entrance. He was smoking, drawing in slow, deliberate draughts of smoke and letting them curl upward of their own fancy. The black mare stood with her muzzle against his arm.

* * *

DONA watched this silhouette for a full five minutes, then she crept back to the bunk and lay down. She had to admit that Ball was a complex person. His lean jaw, his steely eyes and his tight mouth spelled all that she knew him to be, but there were times when the lips took on a half-smile and the gray eyes lighted deep down. The hunted, challenging wariness of his manner was the tell-tale trait that marked him for what he was. Dona had met Ball's kind before.

Her musings led her nowhere and she fell to planning how she could escape. Getting up, she examined the supplies. There was enough water for another day and possibly enough food for three meals such as they had eaten that night. Dona made up her mind to play Ball's game and see if he would not slip away on a foraging expedition.

She returned to the bunk and slipped off her boots and jacket. Without hesitation she slid into the bunk and snuggled down. She thought with grim satisfaction that she would spend a much warmer night than her captor. The cave was high up on the rim and the night would be cold to the point of frost.

Out at the entrance of the cave Stan Ball sat and berated himself for taking Dona prisoner. It had been a wild fancy, a decision of a second's consideration. He was always making them and afterward paying for his blunders. All he could hope to do by this step was to rouse the posse to renewed vigor and add more men to the already overrun woods. He had deliberately lessened his chances of escape.

But the thing that made him feel most guilty was keeping the girl overnight in the cave. On the way up the mountain it had seemed an excellent way to arouse Dona's husband from his complacence and force him to realize that he should be more attentive to such a wife. Now Stan was not so sure all this would work out as he had intended. Winters might turn out to be the wronged and enraged husband.

* * *

HE tossed aside his third cigaret and arose. Patting the black mare's neck, Stan walked to the edge of the shelf and looked down below. His cave rose like a little balcony above Pass Creek. Down in the canyon he could see lights moving and the night breeze carried the rumble of machinery to him faintly. Stan watched the scene grimly, almost sadly.

He came back and made a bed in the mouth of the cave, away from the chill wind of the upper hills. And he slept soundly, his six gun tucked under his leg and his hat laid across his face. Daylight was an hour old before he woke. Sitting up, he listened for sounds from the cave. None came and he ventured inside.

Dona was still sleeping soundly. Her trim shoulder was exposed and it rose and fell gently with her breathing. Stan smiled a crooked smile and retreated to the bench outside. He was sitting in the sun when she finally made her appearance.

"Good morning," he greeted her, without moving.

She gave him a cold stare and flexed her arms.

Stan got to his feet and faced her. "We'll retire to the breakfast room at once. I've been starving for two hours."

Dona re-entered the cave without a word of protest. She had a plan and she intended to carry it out step by step. She sat down on the slab and watched Ball prepare breakfast. If she had expected him to be sparing of the thin slab of bacon she was disappointed. He cut it all up and spread it in the skillet.

The fire roared pleasantly and the bacon and coffee gave off an aroma that made Dona's mouth water. Stan produced a bit of flour and made four griddle cakes. He browned them to a turn and flipped two of them on Dona's plate. Then he smothered them with strips of crisp bacon. A steaming cup of black coffee completed the fare.

With a satisfied feeling, Dona devoured the cakes and bacon. At this rate they would be out of food with another meal. Nothing was said. Stan had dropped back into a moody silence. He was watchful, listening, and always his hand was near his belt. He was typically the outlaw, Ball from Blind River.

After breakfast Stan let the dishes stand dirty. There was not enough water left to wash them. He sauntered out into the sunshine and stood watching the blue haze in the canyon below. Dona finally came out and sat on the other side of the entrance.

* * *

NOON came with a pleasant heat that was not oppressive but that warmed deeply. Dona had busied herself with a careful check of the country below. She was sure she had spotted the Pass Creek trail and that she could go to it if she escaped. Ball had stayed close enough to her so that any attempt to slip away would have been foolish.

He halted in making a turn across the little shelf and stood looking down at her. His eyes were expressionless and his lips formed a straight line.

"I'll make a bargain," he began.

"And I won't listen," she cut in.

"I have food cached down the trail a half mile. I'll get it and replenish our supply of water. You need not go if you will promise to be here when I return. If you do not care to promise I'll take you along." His eyes searched her face rapidly.

Dona met his gaze squarely. Here was a chance. She did not owe this killer a promise kept. He did not deserve it. She got to her feet slowly. "I'll stay here," she answered. "But I will get you if I can."

"You will be here when I get back?" Stan held her eyes with his level gaze.

"I promise." Dona met his challenging glance fairly.

Without another word he saddled the black mare and rode out through the cleft of rock. Dona ran inside the cave and began to look about for any article she might need. Her eyes fell on the picture in the rock niche. She pulled it down and stuffed it under her jacket. Suddenly a thought struck her. Suppose Ball was only testing her and would be hiding just off the ledge? Then, too, she had promised him that she would stay. Her pride and sense of sportsmanship made her hesitate to slip away by breaking a promise. She wanted to capture Ball by her own efforts. If she slipped away he would leave the cave and make his escape, fearing she would lead the posse to it.

Dona walked slowly out into the sunshine. She sat down and thought a long time. Finally a smile curved her lips. She got up and returned to the cave. Shoving the pail containing the remaining water over the still hot coals, she prepared to wash the dishes.

She was busy drying them on a torn cloth when a step warned her that Ball was returning. She faced about and her fingers went limp. The burly form of Swergin towered against the light from the opening. He held two guns ready.

"So!" he snarled between clenched teeth.

SEEDLINGS

For one who is human
And not too wise
To hold in his hand
A seedling tree,
And know it will someday
Sweep the skies
Is something more
Than mystery.

Is something more
Than legerdemain,
For the god of earth
And the god of man
And the hidden god
In the seedling tree
Is now in league
With the god in me.

* * *

Close cooperation with nature is the fine art of making a forest. There is no great secret about it but a mighty lot of patience and of vision for most of us grow discontended with thinking of the forests planted [illegible]yed by a generation yet unborn. planted to be [illegible] generation yet unborn.

* * *

And yet, today, we would be glad if our grandfathers had thought about us a little more when they were stripping off the great forests and leaving the earth bare and ugly, unable to use what water that fell upon it and from which the wild life disappeared.

* * *

Over at Munising the other day we planted trees. It was a simple process. A narrow iron tool, they call it a "dibble" if we remember, is thrust into the ground and tilted back and forth to make a V hole. It is then moved a few inches back and thrust in again. Then the seedling is placed in, roots dangling naturally, and the tool is pushed forward, closing the earth against the little tree much as a mouth is closed.

* * *

It was all very easy. Then we went away leaving three inches of twig thrust into the ground. It is a big flat country. A few oldtimers of pines, too small to be of use to the lumbermen are standing. But mostly it is a bare country, miles of it. On our way home along the dirt-rut road, a doe and her fawn of last spring, leaping across the road ahead of us, waved their white flags as they passed from sight. We felt we were being thanked for the planting . . .

* * *

We have yet to meet a forester who was not fine. There seems to be something about the job to make them so. Although, come to think of it, they must have been well started to fineness to have selected that profession. Maybe it is the size of the job that so influences them but we think it is the close association with the world that must obey the law of life so that they become fine by contact.

* * *

The roadside planting done by the state highway department has perhaps done as much as anything to sell the idea of forest planting to the public. A few years ago little trees were set along M-28 and other highways. Now some of the trees are nearly man-high. You can't escape seeing them. They stand there every day as you go past, each year several inches higher. Another ten years and handsome road-side groves will add beauty to the landscape, give nesting places to the birds, hold water in the earth, give game cover for the small creatures.

A seedling tree is a mighty thing . . . .

OUT OUR WAY By Williams

Land Use Conference Shows Way to Future Development of U. P.

BY H. D. SWITZER

Munising, on October 7 and 8, behold one of the first widespread efforts to constructively do something about bringing prosperity to the county. In a conference of experts and local taxpayers, a plan for Alger county was discussed. The problem that Alger county is facing is one that every county in the Upper Peninsula faces, and likewise, many similar counties in the other two Lake states.

The problem has been developing for sometime, and it's solution is asked by many a man who wishes to see his community flourish. What can we do with our non-productive lands? Where can we raise the money that has been lost due to these lands being cut-over and then reverting to the state through the tax delinquency route? How can we make our industries flourish? How can we add to our local income without a great outlay of money? Though the conference does not answer man of these questions, yet the plan will do much toward answering them.

The reversion of lands to the state through delinquency is a costly process. Not only is there a direct loss to the town and county through the loss of taxes, but a loss in the taking over of these lands by the state. Another loss to the town and county is money that must be spent to support such villages as Melstrand, near Munising, or Kipling, in Delta county. Money must be spent to maintain roads and schools that are necessary for such commodities. In most cases the inhabitants of such towns have no means of sudpport, and so welfare organizations must shelter, feed, clothe and educate them, for which the town and county receive nothing. Such a non-producing community must be eliminated as soon as possible.

This problem has been brought on us in several ways, but the original cause was the rapid deforestation of the country. A logging company would establish a camp in a given tract and remove all the merchantable timber. When operations were finished the company would move on, leaving families jobless and living in the abandoned camps. Later these companies, under the pressure of taxes, would let their lands revert to the state or sell them to colonization companies. Often the poorest of these lands, light sandy or gravel soils, would be sold to unsuspecting settlers for many times their worth.

The towns and counties in which these victims settled would have to buil droads and furnish schools for them. In most cases these roads and schools would not be used for any period of time, for soon the settlers would realize that they could not make a success of it, and would move, or else become a county charge.

U. P. Has Good Soil

To solve these problems and forestall further mistakes along this line, Prof. P. A. Herbert, of Michigan State college, called the Alger County Land Use conference. Several experts in land use were present, and they and the representatives of Alger county attempted to formulate a plan that would aid the county to solve their land and industrial problem.

Dean Joseph F. Cox, of the Division of Agriculture, Michigan State college, said, "Northern farming is not thoroughly understood by many, but crop for crop, the Upper Peninsula, with it's well-drained clay and loam soils, will produce more than many other localities of the middle west. However, the improvement of farms and gardens will depend greatly on the local industries, except where large quantities of one item, suc has potatoes, are marketed in carload lots in the large cities south of us. Farms will depend on the forests, as the permanence of large wood-using industries will depend on the forests. Forests furnish employment in their care, cutting transportation. Forests and wild-life furnish attractions for tourists and for the establishment of permanent summer colonies, and thereby creating a greater market for dairy and vegetable products."

Plain Explained

L. R. Schoenmann, director of the Land Economic Survey of the Department of Conservation, furnished the basis ofthe plan for the development of Alger county. Over a period of two or three years he has amassed a great deal of information in the way of maps of forests, soils and other resources of the county. His talk, illustrated with these maps, discussed in detail, the general development of the county. The plan has no departure from the present use of the land. The county is divided into several portions, each portion having a specific purpose. Areas for farms, summer colonies, parks and forests, as well as for industry, were all segrated, yet no use will be different than the use that is now being made of this land in a small way. The areas suitable for farming are now being used for that purpose, in the communities of Trenary and Traunik, Eben and Chatham. There is now a large federal forest onthe area suitable for forests, and several large lumber companies are holding other areas. Recreational developments are well started at Au Train, Grand Marais and Grand Island. In addition, there are state game refuges and parks in designated areas. The plan for a prosperous Alger county is already well under way, but through the efforts of Mr. Schoenmann the plan is now very definite, and consequently the people Alger county are ahead of the other people in the state.

Much work and some legislation must yet be done and put through in order to protect and follow the plan. There are a hundred or more letters each day asking for information about land to homstead use. Much of the land that is asked about is poor and sandy, and often is quite a distance from other settlements. By refusing such requests, when the land is state owned, the state has done much to prevent many sad and costly mistakes. The supervisors of each county may well do the same thing locally. Probably one of the greatest means of determining the success of the Land Use pla nis the attitude taken by large lumber and land companies, and the way in which they treat and dispose of their lands.

Reviews Wisconsin's Program

Dr. Wehrwein, professor of land utilization, University of Wisconsin, shed some interesting light on Wisconsin's solution of the problem. Wisconsin is forced to tackle the problem a little differently, due to the fact that tax delinquent land reverts to the county and not the state. Briefly, Wisconsin has passed a land zoning law. It stipulates that there shall be no settling on or using land for a purpose for which it is not suited, such as farming on sandy soils. It might eventually be necessary to do the same in Michigan, and perhaps provide for the exchange of this submarginal land for better lands; thus putting the poor lands back to forests, or other suitable uses. One county in Northern Wisconsin has already taken steps along this line.

Visnalizes Future

Concluding the conference, Dr. Zon, director of the Lake States Forest Experiment Station, St. Paul Minnesota, visualized the Upper Peninsula as it would be in 1982, ifthe present trends are followed. "With the advent of the shorter working day and week there will be much more time for recreation, and much land will be needed for clubs, camps and cottages. Probably ten per cent, or a little better than 1,000,000 of the Upper Peninsula's 11,000,000 acres, will be required for recreational purposes, in the form of hunting lands, summer cottages and resorts.

There will be a great increase in the agricultural use of the land. Possibly as high as 25 per cent of the land will be in farms. The populatio nof the Upper Peninsula will be about double. There will be three general types of farming. First, there will be large scale farming on areas of several thousand acres. These will be run by corporations, by groups of individuals and clubs. Secondly, there will be small compact farms around forests. The forests will furnish part time employment for the farmers. Thirdly, there will be small farms owned by industrial workers. These workers will drive from their work in the mills in towns to the small areas on which they will raise something to help support the family.

Half In Forests

About fifty per cent of the land, or 5,500,000 acres will be in forests. These forests will be mostly state and federal. Under good conditions, we may expect about 1,000,000 cords of pulpwood a year, or enough to keep about twenty-five mills the size of the mill at Escanaba running year in and year out. Likewise, we may expect about 3,000,000,000 board feet of lumber from these forests each year.

Five per cent of the land will be occupied by industries, such as mines, mills and woodworking establishments. There will be still about ten per cent of the land that is of no general use. Local government will be simplified, more effective and less expensive."

Dr. Zon, paints a very pretty picture of Cloverland. Alger count has already started to consciously do her share, and the eyes of the country are on the work. These day of quick transportation and communication has made each unit of the Upper Peninsula important to each other, and one part cannot be sick without affecting the whole body. It is to the financial and public interest of every citizen to try and form some definite program for his own community.

The state has already laid the framework for the plan in Chippewa, Luce, Schoolcraft, Iron, Menominee and Alger counties, by the economic survey. Delta county has not yet been mapped, but every effort should be made to get thte Land Economic Survey here at an early date, so that we will not be far behind the other counties in the honest and combined attempt to make our county a better place to live in.

If You're Suffering from Stomach Trouble

Take DI-JO

You nor anyone else can obtain relief from stomach trouble if you continue to pack your stomach full of indigestible food.

Hearty, rich, heavy meals poison those whose stomachs are weak, but there is a way out. A lighter diet of fruits, milk, green vegetables, eggs and the like will give the stomach a chance to revive.

DI-JO

Believed by many to be the best digestive remedy obtainable will not only revive the gastric juices but it will actually assist in the work of digesting the food while the stomach is regaining its vitality. It will work while the stomach, overworked and debilitated, rests. The stomach needs rest and when it doesn't get it, it rebels and cries out in no uncertain terms.

Stomach ills such as heartburn, belching, gas pressure so great that it affects the heart, sour stomach, nausea, and all the kindred ills can be cured. But—you can't eat or drink anything you want to. You've got to be reasonable with your stomach.

We Especially Recommend Di-Jo To You Because It Has Cured Many People

If the bowels are lazy get a bottle of Di-Vac. It was made especially to be taken with Di-Jo and it will eliminate the poisonous matters from the intestinal tract thoroughly and completely. Take it only for a few days. Not that it will hurt you but simply that it will not be necessary to take it very long, if you eat the right food and assist the stomach with Di-Jo.

Here is the right formula for a well stomach:

Eat fruits and green vegetables and drink plenty of milk.

Take Di-Jo

REGISTER NOW FOR NOV. 8TH

Total of 6,382 Qualified in Escanaba Previous to the Primary

Registration for the general election will end Oct. 29 in the city of Escanaba. All voters who have not registered under the new Michigan permanent registration law must do so before above date if they wish to vote on Nov. 8. City Clerk C. E. Anderson will be in his office until 8 p. m. on Wednesday, Oct. 19, to receive the registrations of any Escanaba citizens who wish to qualify at that time.

Preceding the primary election, a total of 6,382 voters were registered in the city of Escanaba.These were divided by precincts as follows: First—713, Second—905, Third—648, Fourth 727, Fifth—832, Sixth—898, Seventh—1,035, Eighth—624.

Precinct books have been carefully inspected for errors, and voter cards are now filed in their proper precinct books unless the voter has moved since that time and has failed to notify the clerk. Any who move between now and general election time are asked to notify the clerk's office and avoid delay at the polling places.

Voters of Delta county will have three separate ballots, the large ballot on which the names of candidates of seven parties appear, the state constitutional amendment ballot with seven different amendments, and the special ballot on which Delta county voters will express their decision on the $60,000 bond issue for county road work and employment relief. The latter is designed as a means of cashing in on anticipated receipts from the Horton weight tax bill in advance, and the bonds will be retired through this fund without any addition to the tax levy of the county.

Swedish Missions Endorse Hoover, Back Prohibition

A resolution pledging support to the 18th amendment and endorsing Herbert Hoover for re-election as president of the United States was passed at a meeting of the ministerial association composed of the pastors of Swedish Mission churches in the upper Peninsula.

The resolution follows:

We, the Ministerial Association of the Northern Michigan District of the Swedish Mission Covenant of America, assembled at our annual Conference in the Swedish Mission church of Negaunee, Michigan, Oct. 12-14, 1932, do hereby give our wholehearted support to the 18th Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. We do not think that the repeal of the said amendment will bring back prosperity to our country as some advocate, but that it will rather delay the return of better times as well as bringing with it an increase of lawlessness and crime.

We further heartily endorse Herbert Hoover for re-election to the presidency of the United States. We know his program is sound and dependable, having been tried. Why shift to an untried program in these times of unrest?

White Cloud, Mich., Oct. 14 (AP)—Salaries of the county treasurer, clerk and prosecutor will be reduced 25 per cent under a decision of the Newaygo county board of supervisors at their meeting here.

Bids On Escanaba Grocery Business Held For Monday

Due to the fact that prices submitted required checking, the Escanaba city council has deferred action on awarding the contract for welfare department grocery orders until Monday afternoon. Bids for the grocery business, received monthly, were opened Friday at the city hall. Two of the stores had almost identical bids, and the council decided to have the prices on various items analyzed before making their decision.

The contract was held by the Fair Store grocery department during the past month, and for the month previous to that by Charles Gafner.

Milk is the Manly Food

WHEN small boys and girls have put babyhood behind them, they sometimes think they should not drink any more milk because they look on milk as "babies' food."

Tell them that the strongest, most athletic men and women all over the country drink milk themselves. Ask any prominent baseball player, any champion boxer, any "star" man or woman swimmer, any long-distance runner—Nurmi for instance—if they drink milk and the answer is, "Of course. I could not keep fit without it."

Milk is the lifelong food for long life. Give children lots of outdoor play in the sunshine, all through the year, an abundance of rich, whole milk with leafy vegetables, eggs, bread and butter—but very little meat—and you're laying the foundation for eighty years of vigorous life.

That's a good prescription for "growing-ups" as well as children. Milk is manly food.

THE PUBLIC PAYS

Your Taxes and Republican Extravagance

When You Groan Under the Burden of Taxes

Remember—

That the deficit at the end of the last two years of Hooverism is around four billion dollars—the greatest in peace time history.

That this huge deficit was not born overnight but the performances of the past two years have wiped out previous gains in the way of reducing our national debt and have brought it to the astounding total of nearly twenty billion dollars.

Remember—

That although Republicans preached economy in 1920 and 1924, and promised highest efficiency at lowest cost in 1928, government bills have mounted steadily. Hooverism cost the taxpayers $4,220,000,000 in 1930-31; over $5,000,000,000 in 1931-32.

That the alibi of veterans' bonus and unemployment relief cannot explain tripled expenses in the Department of Agriculture in the last five years; nor a jump of $15,000,000 in the Post Office deficit, $5,000,000 in the Department of Labor, $40,000,000 for the Shipping Board, and $29,000,000 for the Department of Justice; nor why the Hoover Farm Board and its subsidiaries spend over $5,000,000 a year in salaries; nor why the Department of Commerce had to erect a palatial $17,500,000 building for its tariff-shrunken trade.

That although it was clear that our chief source of revenue, income taxes, would drop seriously and retrenchment was the watchword in every home and business, government spending kept merrily on at $5,000,000 a day more than income.

Remember—

That the Seventy-first Congress with a big Republican majority was in session from December 1930 until March 1931. It passed the appropriations which swelled the deficit. But it made no attempt to cut expenses or balance the budget.

That although President Hoover could have called a special session of the Seventy-second Congress during the Summer or Autumn of 1931 to deal with the financial crisis, he refused to take action in spite of urgent appeals.

That a balanced budget as well as reconstruction plans had to await a Democratic majority in the House where all revenue measures must originate.

Remember—

That Republican leadership has brought us to the verge of bankruptcy.

That "Hoover Economy" means hardest economy in every household to save the money, to pay the taxes, to pay for the deficit that Hoover built.

THE SECRETARY BIRD is also called the snake bird, a more suitable title than the first, since snakes form its chief food. With powerful legs and feet, the bird delivers a forward kick that soon puts the most active snake out of commission. The wings are used as shields during the combat, and even the deadly cobra is no match for it.

The bones of domestic cattle have been found in the remains of Neolithic settlements throughout England, but have never been found apart from human settlements. It is presumed that the cattle were brought to Europe from Asia.

Churches Unite For Observance Of Anniversary

The tercentenary anniversary of the death of Gustavus II Adolphus will be duly observed by joint festivities in which four churches in this city will participate, namely, the Bethany Lutheran, the Calvary Baptist, the Swedish Mission and the Swedish Methodist Episcopal churches.

This festive event is slated for Sunday afternoon, Nov. 13. The program for this occasion will be given in the Bethany Lutheran church, beginning at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Julius Lincoln of Chicago has been secured as speaker for the anniversary festival. Dr. Lincoln has served as pastor of Lutheran churches in Jamestown, N. Y., and Los Angeles, Calif. The last few years he has been engaged as field secretary for the Sons and Daughters of Sweden association. During the recent war he was employed by the government in its publicity department. He is known as one of the oustanding orators in this country, particularly among people of Swedish descent.

Choirs of the four churches will unite into one large chorus for the purpose of giving three musical numbers on the program. Pastors of the churches will also participate in the program.

It is anticipated that this historic event will attract wide attention in this community and in adjacent territory. This tercentenary will be observed in one way or another throughout this land and in other countries during the next few weeks.

"The heritage of Gustavus Adolphus does not belong to Sweden alone, nor even solely to Europe, it belongs to the world," an announcement in regard to the anniversary states. "His significance is even greater and of wider scope than is usually supposed. Through the heroic part which he took in the Thirty Years War, he not only secured religious freedom, but political freedom as well for the is the basis of the other. It is conceded by our leading historians that Gustavus Adolphus inaugurated a new epoch in political history. And since his day 'liberty has been astir throughout the nations of the earth.' The peace of Westphalia not only guaranteed liberty of conscience, it also became the basis of modern international law, a bulwark against the oppression of races and nationalities, the greatest guarantee to liberty before the eighteenth century."

Gustavus II Adolphus, king of Sweden, died on the battlefield of Lutzen, Germany, on Nov. 6, 1632.

Delegates Leave For Convention Opening Monday

Mrs. George M. Haberle, delegate of Phoebe Rebekah lodge, left Saturday and Joseph T. Peterson and Charles Pariseau of the Odd Fellows lodge, are leaving today for Lansing where they will attend the annual state convention of the two organizations.

The convention will open Monday, October 17, and will continue through Wednesday, with morning, afternoon and evening sessions.

Leaders prominent in both organizations will be present and will speak at the various meetings arranged for the three-day convention.

New York, Oct. 14 (AP)—Employment will be given to between 1,000 and 1,500 men Monday when the American Radiator company resumes operations at its largest plant at Bayonne, N. J., officials announced today.

Mrs. Macauley To Speak Here On October 22

Mrs. Adalin Wright Macauley, nationally known speaker, will address the women of Escanaba and neighboring communities at a meeting, which, sponsored by the Woman's Republican club, will be held in the First Presbyterian church hall, Saturday afternoon, October 22, at 2:30 o'clock.

The meeting is open to all women interested in Republicanism and its principles, and a cordial invitation has been extended to everyone to attend. There is no admission fee.

Mrs. Macauley, who is a noted lecturer, was born in Minneapolis, descendant of a family linked with Republicanism since its conception. She was graduated from Rockford college in 1908 and while serving as secretary of Stout Institute at Menomonie, Wis., married John William Macauley.

Through Major Macauley's service in France, Mrs. Macauley became interested in the American Legion Auxiliary. She was elected Wisconsin department president in the early days of the organization and was advanced through national chairmanships to the office of national president in 1927, the year the Legion made its peace pilgrimage to France. With General Pershing and Commanger Savage, Mrs. Macauley was officially welcomed by France and later was officially received by Great Britain, Belgium, Switzerland and Italy.

At official government banquets Mrs. Macauley spoke for the American women and gave the toast to the women of Great Britain at the banquet in London over which the Prince of Wales presided. Because she was so well and favorably known in the allied countries, Mrs. Macauley was elected president of the Auxiliary to FIDAC at Bucharest, Roumania, on September, 1928, the first American woman to be honored with this high office. As president of FIDAC Auxiliary, Mrs. Macauley spent a year in Europe with headquarters at Paris and lectured in France, England and Poland. Since her return to this country, Mrs. Macauley has been on the chautauqua platform, lecturing throughout the United States.

Mrs. Macauley bears the reputation, honestly earned, of being one of the finest women speakers in America. Her grasp of national and international problems has made it possible for her to present in a convincing manner the Republican policies on international issues in justification of the party stand and her perfect accord with and ardent support of the president.

Theatres

AT THE DELFT

"Horse Feathers," latest of the mad, merry comedies of the Four Marx Brothers, opens today at the Delft theatre.

Groucho, Chico, Harpo and Zeppo are again cast together in a picture that affords them opportunities for the same type of nonsense they presented in "Animal Crackers," "Monkey Business," and "The Cocoanuts," their three previous movie efforts.

An amusing plot holds the picture together. Groucho is a college president because that's the only way, it seems, he can get his son, Zeppo, out of college. Zeppo has been there twelve years.

With the cooperation of Chico, village bootlegger, and Harpo, village dogcatcher, he ultimately accomplishes his object.

Upon this frame is built many a comedy situation. Groucho talks at his usual rapid-fire rate; Chico puns in dialect; Harpo says nothing and chases every blonde in sight; and Zeppo makes love to the best-looking girls available.

S. J. Perelman, Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruby, well known humorists, wrote the book. Music and lyrics are by Kalmar and Ruby, and Norman McLeod, in charge of direction of "Monkey Business," directed the new picture.

M. H. S. DEBATE SQUAD CHOSEN

Six Veterans Will Form Nucleus; To Debate On Income Tax

Manistique high school's debate squad under the direction of Coach Preston Tanis is already limbering its chanial muscles for another strenuous season with prospects unusually bright. Although no prophecies are being made as to the won and lost columns, inasmuch as there is so much uncertainty in debate work, it is certain that local high school representatives will give a good accunt of themselves during the forthcoming season.

With only two varsity debators lost to the squad, Lorraine Doyle and Bernadine Bebeau, and six veterans back in the fold together with a string of promising candidates, Coach Tanis is well satisfied with the material with chock he has to work.

Personnel of the affirmative squad consists of the veterans, William Morrison and Jack McIntosh, and Edgar Carrington, Frances Vezina, Jean Craver, and Richard Katzenstein, newcomers. Veterans Clayton Burrell, Leon Willoughby, Louise Bolitho, and Evelyn Grosa compose the squad of negative candidates with Paula Fennimore and Harold Peterson as first year candidates.

The entire squad has been holding two afternon meetings a week and one evening meeting. Temporary arrangements for practice on no decision debates have been made with Escanaba and Gladstone. They are scheduled to take place some time during the latter part of this month.

Begin Nov. 18

Manistique high school has again joined the Michigan High School Debating League with which they have been affiliated for the past several years. The league is being promoted by the Michigan Extension division and is sponsored by the Detroit Free Press. Last year 250 high schools were members of the league embracing 1,500 participants in 750 debates before an estimated audience of 150,000.

The league debates will be conducted in two series, the preliminary series consisting of four rounds in which all member schools participate, and an elimination series in which the 64 high schools with the best preliminary debate records compete for the state championship. The first preliminary debate is scheduled for November 18 and the final state championship contest will be held on April 28 in the Hill auditorium at Ann Arbor.

The question to be debated by members of the league this year is, "Resolved: That Michigan should adopt an income tax plan." Not only is the question an interesting one, but it is also most opportune. The lowering or elimination of the state property tax and the substitution of the income tax was heatedly debated in the last session of state legislature and has also been one of the main planks in the platforms of state politicians campaigning for office. In these times of economic distress it is a vital question in which the public is greatly interested.

WELFARE MEET IS HELD FRIDAY

All Council Officers Re-Elected; Plans Made For Relief

At the annual meeting of the Welfare Council held Friday evening at the court house, all present officers were re-elected to the positions they held the past year. Approximately 50 persons representing some 40 fraternal organizations, churches, schools, and townships, all of which are active in city and county welfare work, attended the meeting at which plans for the carrying out of effective relief work for the coming year were formed.

Officers re-elected are as follows: A. J. Cayia, chairman; Mrs. George Nicholson, vice chairman; and W. B. Thomas, secretary. Officers of the executive committee who were also re-elected are as follows: Mrs. Antone Weber, Mrs. A. M. LeRoy, Mrs. H. K. Peterson, Dr. George A. Shaw, George R. Matthews, and John E. McCarthy.

Machinery for the administration of relief to the indigent will be the same as that outlined last December when the council was first organized, providing that all distribution be made through the central agency to avoid duplication.

Practically all women's organizations in the city are now busy with the making of garments for the poor with cotton cloth received from the American Red Cross. Also through the efforts of the Red Cross approximately 175 families are receiving flour gratis. Allotments are on the basis of 200 pounds for a family of from five to seven for a period of three months.

Cooking School Is Highly Successful

One of the most successful cooking schools ever held in this city was concluded last evening at the Legion Memorial cottage. Hundreds of local women witnessed the electric cooking demonstrations given by Miss Viola M. Decker, home economics expert.

Sessions were held in the afternoon and evening on Friday and Saturday. Miss Decker demonstrated several novel recipes and in keeping with present conditions showed how strict economy could be practiced.

Miss Decker was brought here through the efforts of the American Home committee of the Manistique Woman's club cooperating with the Manistique Power and Light company.

PETITION FOR PAPER TARIFF

Brucker Asks Washington To Investigate Newsprint Situation

Seeking immediate action for a tariff on paper, especially newsprint, the Manistique Pulp & Paper company sent telegrams to Governor Wilbur M. Brucker, Congressman Frank P. Bohn, and Senators James Couzens and Arthur H. Vandenburg advising them of conditions.

In answer to the telegram sent to Governor Brucker by the city council which declared that "By unanimous action you are urged to intercede in the interest of American paper manufacturers as against proposed price cutting by Canadian paper mills as set forth in the telegram of the Manistique Pulp & Paper company," Don B. Smith, executive secretary to the governor, replied, "Governor Brucker is asking Washington authorities to investigate the newsprint situation."

Edward Sheahan, superintendent of the local paper company, in his wires to the above mentioned public officials said:

"I have in my possession firm offers from Canadian paper companies to American publishers received October 7 and 8 offering paper for $37.50 per ton delivered, which supercedes $53.00 price. These offers state that this particular group of mills are in the hands of receivers deferring interest, depreciation, and tax payments, and we also have information which leads us to believe that the Canadian government has promised to help out in the financing of these mills to give employment to Canadian labor.

"In view of the exchange rate and other advantages enumerated above, the American mills will be forced to close down. May we not ask you to get in touch with those officials of the government whose duty it is to correct such a situation as now confronts the American paper industries."

At a paper makers' meeting held in Escanaba last Sunday night a resolution calling for a tariff on pulp and paper was passed. It was pointed out at that time that pulp and paper to the extent of $250,000,000 was imported in 1930. In 1931 it fell to $200,800,000 but the decrease was due to lack of business rather than to restrictive measures. Of the above amounts one-half or $131,800,000 and $112,200,000 represents newsprint only.

In terms of employment it is estimated that 100,000 men are affected. These figures cover paper mill workers only and do not include the various trades which furnish materials for paper manufacture. Although there is no way of estimating their number there is no doubt but what it runs into large figures.

Paper makers state that whether or not such a tariff is sound economics was not taken into consideration. "Nor does it matter when the facts are looked squarely in the face. Economics like charity begins at home. American investors and paper mill workers are losing heavily because of free pulp and paper and look to their government for protection.

Local Couple Flies To Altar When Auto Fails On Long Trip

Merwin A. White, of Frankfort, and Miss Bernadette Gierke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gierke of this city, "stole a march" on local friends Wednesday (Columbus Day) when they eloped and were married at Waukegan, Ill. Mr. White's car broke down at Manitowoc, Wis., but their plans were not to be balked as White chartered a plane to complete the rest of their journey. An Associated Press story in yesterday's Press with a Waukegan dateline, reads as follows:

"A plane carried a young Michigan couple from Manitowoc, Wis., where their automobile broke down, to the office of Justice of the Peace M. T. Haney, who married them late Wednesday.

"Merwin A. White, 22, of Frankfort, Mich., and Bernadette Gierke, 18, of Manistique, Mich., decided to drive 400 miles from Manistique to Waukegan to be married on Columbus Day, but their automobile failed them. White chartered the plane and the marriage ceremony was performed on time."

Mr. White is the proprietor of the "Whitehouse" cottage at Harrison Beach, Indian Lake.

Mrs. F. Shaw left Friday evening for Minneapolis to visit for a few days with friends before continuing on her way home, Everett, Wash. Mrs. Shaw has been visiting in the city for several weeks at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. George A. Shaw, 44 Walnut street.

In a women's golf tournament at Oklahoma City, Mrs. W. F. Elting took only 29 putts for 18 holes. Her score was 114.

For the first time in her eventful life Constance Bennett has had a break into motion pictures.

Never having been forced to crash the cinema gates as a beginner she went through that ordeal as a star, and what she missed in real life she experienced in one of her own pictures.

The film is RKO Pathe's "What Price Hollywood," now showing at the Rialto Theatre; and in its early stages the delectable blonde star has to play a role about as unfamiliar to her as any she has ever done. It is that of a girl who fights her way up the movie ladder by playing extra, doing "bit" parts and acting as "stand in" for a star.

Because of her own meteoric rise to success, all Constance Bennett knows about that phase of picture making is what she has seen. The films practically kidnaped her from a social career and her first part was a lead.

Legion To Rock Tomorrow Night

Gladstone members of the American Legion will go to Rock tomorrow night to hold a meeting. No special program has been planned, officers state, but committee reports will be made and other routine business transacted. The plans for the Armistice celebration will be outlined, including the program to be given at the Rock and Gladstone High Schools.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Hallowe'en Party—Plans are being made for an elaborate Hallowe'en party in the gymnasium of the high school on the evening of Oct. 31, it was announced yesterday by Principal C. C. Strickland of the high school. A committee is now making arrangements for a program of stunts and entertainment.

The party will be open and free to every schoo boy or girl from the 7th to 12th grades, it is announced.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 13 (AP)—Thirty three players made up the University of Iowa football squad which entrained here today for Bloomington to meet Indiana Saturday.

Local Boy Hurt In Freak Accident

Clifford Gamache, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gamache, is in St. Luke's hospital, Marquette, suffering from a wound near his right eye as the result of a freak accident. Gamache, in company with three companions camped near Au Train Falls, used a cartridge as a target and when one of the marksmen succeeded in striking the mark, the cartridge exploded striking Gamache in the cheek just below the eye.

Pieces of the cartridge pierced the flesh and struck the cheek bone. One fragment took an upward course and lodged back of the eyeball.

The injured boy was rushed to the Marquette hospital where he is now receiving treatment. Doctors have hopes of saving the sight of the eye.

MILK PACKED IN PAPER BOTTLES

Mayor J. P. Bushong Interested in New Invention

Packing of fresh milk in paper bottles has been accomplished by the American Paper Bottle Co., a concern in which J. P. Bushong, Gladstone mayor, is interested, according to announcements appearing recently in Toledo, Ohio, newspapers. During the past week the "single service milk bottle" made its first appearance in Toledo and henceforth that city is to be supplied with its milk in a container that is unique.

For several years the concern, in which Mr. Bushong and two other stockholders in the Northwestern Cooperage and Lumber company—C. W. Reade and G. A. Vradenberg, of Toledo—have been interested, has experimented with a machine that will pasteurize and bottle milk in paper containers. The machine forms, fills and seals the paper bottle in one operation.

According to the Toledo newspapers, the corporation is under intensive observation by the dairy industries of the entire country, since successful operation of a plant of this character is making history in the milk world.

Numerous attempts have been made, the newspaper story continues, to successfully form, fill and seal a single service milk bottle in one operation, but previous efforts have lacked some necessary factor. After more than 10 years of persistent effort, the American Paper Bottle company has perfected a machine that apparently meets all requirements.

Manufacture of the machine which forms, fills and seals the Pure-Pak containers will be begun at once by the company.

Lawrence Van Horn Is Accepted By Eastman School

Mr. Lawrence B. VanHorn, son of Mr. Edwin VanHorn, of 1325 Wisconsin avenue, Gladstone, has been accepted as a member of the entering class of the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester.

The entering class this year numbers 146 members. The high standard of requirement of the Eastman school has this year been very rigidly adhered to in admission of students. The number of rejections has been large. The class as now assembled includes students from 26 states, the D. of C., and from Canada. In its membership are 17 graduate students, who come from other institutions to earn master degrees in the Eastman school. Admission to the Eastman school is proof of a high standard of preparation for collegiate music study and a talent above the ordinary.

Prominent Woman Speaker To Give Democratic Talk

Mrs. Elizabeth Bass, Chicago, nationally known club woman and prominently identified with women's political activity since the earliest days of suffrage, will speak at the Junior high school auditorium, Escanaba, on behalf of the Democratic ticket on Wednesday evening, Oct. 26, it was announced yesterday by Mrs. O. K. Fjetland, chairman of the Delta County Women's Democratic committee. Mrs. Bass is coming to Escanaba to appear at a noonday luncheon of the Escanaba Women's club in a non-political address and has accepted an invitation of the Democratic committee to speak on political matters that evening, it is announced.

Mrs. Bass has been active in public life for a great many years. About twenty years ago she appeared on the platform in Escanaba in an appeal for woman suffrage. She is accredited with having played a major part in securing equal political rights for women. Among the important state and national posts that she has held during her career are: Member original Juvenile Court Commission for the State of Illinois, Member Marriage and Divorce Commission, Manager and Chairman Women's Bureau of the Democratic National Committee, and in 1917 she served as a member of the National Women's Liberty Loan Committee.

Mrs. Bass is a member of the D. A. R., the Chicago Woman's Club and the Woman's City Club of Washington. She was one of the early presidents of the Chicago Woman's club and has been active in the welfare work among dependent and neglected girls.

As a public speaker she has gained wide recognition and during the past several national campaigns has been selected as a speaker by the Democratic National speaker's bureau. She campaigned throughout the nation on behalf of Woodrow Wilson in 1916 and was one of his advisors during the time he was president.

Atty. Jackson To Speak At Rotary

Glenn W. Jackson, prosecuting attorney of Delta county, will speak at the Monday noon Rotary luncheon, it was announced yesterday by W. S. Skellenger, chairman of the program committee. The subject of the address has not been announced.

BY JOHN L. COOLEY
(Associated Press Financial Writer)

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Stocks had a steady undertone today, finishing a little higher on balance, but trading was dull and the market failed to disclose much of a trend.

Net changes were largely fractional, as is frequently the case in a routine week-end session. Transactions amounted to 593,510 shares.

Rails tried to anticipate a favorable carloadings statement in the first half hour, but the actual statistics on freight movement for the week ended October 8 were somewhat under Wall Street's expectations and traders took profits. Carriers steadied again with the general list later.

Losses averaging half a point by American Telephone, Case, Harvester, United Aircraft, American Tobacco "B," American Can and Baltimore & Ohio were more than offset by moderate gains in Woolworth, North American, Westinghouse, New York Central, Allied Chemical, U. S. Steel preferred, Eastman and some of the metals and oils.

American Telephone's financial statement for the first nine months showed that subsidiaries had failed by $18,000,000 to cover dividends paid by them, most of which go to the parent company.

The rate of steel production is expected to show little change next week, for automobile companies and other large consumers are still not in the market on any substantial scale and the industry is depending on the small orders which have provided virtually all its lift so far this autumn.

Budget Reduced

Sault Ste. Marie—Economies in every division of government has resulted in a $169,387.15 tax reduction in Chippewa county for the year 1933. It is a 16.4 per cent decrease.

These figures were revealed in a report of the committee on apportionment adopted by the board of supervisors Thursday afternoon. The reduction, the report indicated, was the result of a uniform reduction in state, county, county road, school and city taxes.

The reduction means a clash in the tax rate of from $42.62 per $1,000 assessed valuation in 1932 to $37.23 in 1933, a decrease of $5.39.

Washington, Oct. 14 (AP)—Authorization was given the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company today by the interstate commerce commission to borrow $3,000,000 from the reconstruction finance corporation to build 820 coal cars and 2,500 freight cars and to rebuild 165 locomotives. The loan is expected to give employment to 1,500 men for six months.

Bethany Social

One diversion of the Bethany society presented a very entertaining program at the Zion Lutheran church Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Gust Nye sang a pretty duet before the presentation of the one-act comedy, entitled "Mrs. Apple and Her Court." The girls who assumed roles of the different characters in the play were Lydia Strom, Lilly Nelson, Nina Mattson, Maffli Hallen, Elsie Soderbeck, Elsa Ekstrom, Thyra Thompson, Elsie Anderson, Elsie Leppanen, and Lillie Carlson. Accordion solos by the Rev. George W. Wahlin, concluded the program.

Approximately one hundred and seventy people enjoyed the social hour and refreshments which followed the entertainment.

Members and friends of the Manistique Woman's club are urged to attend the next meeting of the club which will be held on next Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium at 8:15 o'clock with the Escanaba Woman's club and a choral group under the direction of Miss Ruth Sundwick providing the entertainment. The evening meeting will be held in place of the regular Tuesday afternoon meeting at the Elks' temple.

The choral group consists of 19 voices and all are excellent musicians. The program promises to be highly pleasing and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Oct. 15—Collapse of speculative buying power led to a flurry of stop-loss selling in wheat today, and December contracts outdid the season's bottom price record.

Rural marketing of wheat in Canada was again heavy, and advices at hand said the Winnipeg market was upheld solely by government support, big quantities of wheat being offered at a sixteenth of a cent over the government limit. Traders were shy, looked to the New York stock market for a new buying incentive switched to the selling of wheat when securities became easier after a steady opening.

Wheat closed nervous, 5-8 to 1 cent under yesterday's finish, corn 1-8 to 3-8 down, oats 1-8 to ¼ off, and provisions varying from 7 cents decline to 5 cents advance.

Corn and oats displayed stubborn resistance to selling pressure, and received good support on price dips. Word of 500,000 bushels of corn having been taken for export was a steadying factor.

Provisions had a rather firm tone, with moderate buying and offerings light.

Closing indemnities: Wheat December, 47 3-8 to ½, 49 1-8 to ¼; May, 52 3-4 to 7-8, 54 3-4; July, 55 7-8, offers. Corn—December, 25 7-8 to 3-4, 26 1-8; May, 30 5-8 to 3-4, 31 1-8.

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Aside from renewed interest in Canadian securities, many of which advanced to new 1932 highs, the bond market was a rather stagnant affair today.

Sales totaled only $4,969,000, par value, considerably less than normal for a short Saturday session, and the average for 60 domestic corporate loans was up one-tenth of a point.

Of the dominion group, seven National Railway and both the government 4s and 5s reached top figures for the year in only moderately active trading. Popularity of Canadian obligations was attributed partly to the recent tariff accord with Great Britain.

A few low-priced domestic railroad bonds added as much as a point or more to their gains of yesterday, although the turnover in this category was the smallest in several weeks.

The utilities and industrials generally followed a narrow range, with their averages holding barely steady. The heaviest trading was in International Match 5s which gained 1 7-8 points.

Trading Activity On Curb Dwindles

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Trading activity on the curb market today died down to a faint whisper, approximately 80,000 shares changing hands against 200,000 last Saturday. Prices were confined to narrow changes, for the most part a fraction upward.

Electric Bond and Share opened up nearly 2 points, but subsided later, closing with a gain of 5-8 point. American Gas & Electric gained nearly a point. Cities Service and Niagara Hudson Power were unchanged.

There was little activity in the utility preferred stocks, but price changes were sharp here and there. Electric Bond and Share 6 percent preferred gained 6½ points. Appalachian Electric preferred dropped nearly 4 on an odd lot transaction.

The oil shares failed to register any further enthusiasm over recent advances in crude oil prices. Standard of Indiana gained a scant fraction. Imperial Oil was up a fraction. There were no dealings in Gulf or Humble.

Newmont Mining moved up a point in fairly active trading.

Whitedale & Gulliver

A surprise, farewell party was given in honor of Mrs. Wilhelmina Peterson at her farm home in the Swedish settlement last Friday evening. Mrs. Peterson has purchased a new home in Manistique, where she will be moving to, in a short time. She has lived on her farm home about forty years. The tragic death of her youngest son, Gus Peterson, last May, has caused her to abandon farm life in her declining years. The friends and relatives who came to spend another pleasant evening at her farm home were, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rose, Verner Rose, Mr. and Mrs. John Bergman, Mrs. Delwin Bergman, Howard Bergman, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace MacGregor, Mrs. Charles MacGregor and sons, Charles and Glen, Richard Anderson, Mrs. Pete Anderson ,Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, Mrs. John Johnson, son William, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Edwards and family and from Manistique, were Mr. and Mrs. Gust Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Ekdahl and Mrs. Edwin Peterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Brearley, Jack McNair, Martha Brearley, attended a surprise birthday party last Saturday evening at the M. Lindberg home in Manistique. The party was in honor of Mr. Lindberg's and Miss Creighton's birthdays, both being on the same day.

John Rodgers, the village blacksmith for so many ears, is moving ahead with the times, and has built a traveling "Smithy" so that he is now a "traveling salesman" type of shoeing expert taking his equipment with him and doing the work on the farm or wherever needed. We wish John success in the new work.

The Brearley family were dinner guests last Sunday at the Walter Anderson home on the River Road.

Mrs. Walter Anderson and son Ernest were visitors at the William Reid home last Monday and took the car home full of the finest apples.

May Abandon Project

Marquette—If the voters of Marquette do not approve, on November 8, of the proposal to vacate portions of Lake, Jackson, Genesee and Mesnard streets, as submitted by the city commission at the request of Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner, the state highway department will abandon its plan to bring U. S.-41, the most important trunk line highway in the upper peninsula, directly into the principal business district of this city.

Rangers Will Play Stambaugh All-Stars Today

TEAMS EXPECT RECORD CROWD

Escanaba Lineup Ready For Bruising Scrap With Visitors

Two outstanding teams, Escanaba Rangers and Stambaugh All-Stars, will clash at the Escanaba athletic field this afternoon starting promptly at 2:30 o'clock. Barring unfavorable weather conditions, the Escanaba athletic association expects a capacity crowd to witness the battle of the football giants and, incidentally, to pull the organization out of a precarious financial position.

Stambaugh officials announced this week that Nels Macki, the much heralded "Flying Finn" who has made impressive showings in this city in the past, will make his first appearance in the Stambaugh lineup today since he was injured in the last Ranger-All-Star game a year ago.

Another touted Stambaugh sensation who will return to the Stambaugh lineup today after a siege of injuries will be Ham Westerlund, the team's speed merchant who proved a thorn for the Rangers in past encounters. Speedy plays and sweeping end runs will be the forte of the All-Stars, according to word from the range city yesterday.

Offense Polished Up

The Escanaba aggregation was worked ambitiously all week to revise their offense for the Stambaugh game and also to devise ways and means of stopping the ground gaining antics of the All-Star ball toters.

Against Iron Mountain last week the Rangers gained consistently in mid field only to lose the ball when deep in enemy territory. Today Coach Christensen feels his team will pack enough scoring punch to make opportunities count when they appear.

Having been forced to play in severe cold rains the past two weeks, which supplemented with other conflicting attractions such as the partridge season, world series, etc., the Rangers have not attracted anywhere near the crowd of patrons that regularly attend their games and as the result the organization's treasury has dipped into the red side of the ledger.

Stambaugh has graciously consented to materially reduce their expense guarantee in order to cooperate with the local organization.

The Escanaba lineup was not announced last evening but it is believed that the team will probably be the same as that which worked against the Soo Bears and Iron Mountain. Coach Christensen out of last week's game because of injuries may be able to resume his duties at the flank position and Latimer who played only a few moments against the Mountaineers also appears a certain starter at the other wing berth.

Peshtigo Wins from Rock By 12-0 Score

ST. JOSEPH, GLADSTONE WIN EASILY

Delta County Men Star As Tech Wins From Normal "11"

Marquette, Oct. 15 (Special)—Michigan Tech defeated Northern Normal here today, 12 to 0, in a college football game played in rain and on a soggy field.

Ted Murray of Gladstone was the offensive star for Tech, punting, passing and running the Northern team ragged. The first Tech score was made on a 40 yard pass from Murray to Krumals in the second period. Tech scored again the fourth, Koka taking the ball over from the five yard stripe.

Bill Karas of Escanaba played an exceptional game on the line for Tech.

The Ranguette brothers of Nahma were outstanding in the Northern line.

SPARTANS WIN HANDILY, 27-0

Frequent Penalties Mar State's Offense at East Lansing

East Lansing, Mich., Oct. 15, (AP)—Michigan State college continued its winning streak here today by passing and plunging its way to a 27 to 0 victory over Illinois Wesleyan.

Frequent penalties marred the Spartan offense. On three occasions Michigan State players crossed the Wesleyan goal line only to be called back when the officials detected holding or offsides. On other occasions promising State drives were checked by penalties.

The Spartan lineup was strengthened today by the return of Bernard McNutt, Allegan, Mich., junior, who had been absent from the State backfield since before the Michigan game.

To Abe Eliowitz, Spartan fullback, went the lion's share of the scoring honors. The Detroit boy made three of State's four touchdowns besides contributing numerous long runs, punts and successful passes.

State got its first touchdown in the opening period when Eliowitz climaxed a goalward drive by cracking the line for one yard and a score. A previous touchdown run by Monnett had been nullified by a holding penalty against State.

PURPLE BACKS DISPLAY SPEED

Parochials Trounce Munising, 20-0, and Keep Brown Jug

Munising, Oct. 15, (Special)—Ignoring a soggy field, St. Joseph ball toters showed surprising speed to defeat Munising here today 20 to 0, and thereby retained possession of the "Little Brown Jug," trophy awarded annually to the team winning the St. Joseph-Munising football battle.

JUG NOT BROWN

The "Little Brown Jug", trophy which goes to the winning team annually in the St. Joseph-Munising football game, is in reality not a brown jug at all. When first offered as a trophy back in 1922, the jug, gallon size, was brown but since then the trophy has been painted orange and black to signify Munising and purple and gold, the St. Joseph colors. Scores of each of the games since 1933 have been painted on the jug. For sentimental reasons, the school continue to call the trpohy "The Little Brown Jug."

Long runs by the Parochial backs featured the game, McGovern, Brazeau, Beaumier and Bodette breaking away consistently to make lengthy advances. On one occasion Beaumier raced 85 yards to cross the Munising goal only to be called back by an offside penalty.

After rolling up three touchdowns in the first half, Coach Brunelle started his second team players in the last halt and kept them in the game until the last four minutes of the fourth period.

St. Joseph scored in the first four minutes of play. Brazeau passed to McGovern for a 25-yard gain and then Beaumier skirted the end for the remaining 20 yards and a touchdown. Brazeau kicked goal.

Score on Long Runs

Before the first quarter ended St. Joseph fluked a scoring opportunity when Murray passed over the goal line on third down from Munising's three-yard stripe.

In the second period Beaumier made two sharp thrusts through the Munising line, picking up nine yards on the first play and following with 30 more and another touchdown on the next play. Brazeau's kick was blocked.

The third St. Joseph score also resulted from long runs. On an end around play, McGovern broke loose for 40 yards and finally was downed on Munising's 27-yard line. Brazeau picked up the 27 yards on another dash, scoring standing up. He also kicked the goal.

In the last half the Parochial reserves were rushed into they fray and they battled the Algerites on better than even terms. There was no scoring in the last two periods. A pass Murray to McGovern late in the game netted 20 yards but the Parochials were forced to punt on the ensuing series, losing possession of the ball.

Two outstanding plays of the game, were boots by Keller of Munising and Brazeau of St. Joseph. Keller got off one kick in the first quarter that sailed 70 yards with the wind and Brazeau repeated the stunt in the fourth period, also with the wind behind him.

The officials were Kelly, Cook, and Bartman, all of Manistique.

Indiana Wins from Iowa By 12-0 Score

Memorial Stadium, Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 15 (AP)—Indiana's university football team displayed a varied attack to defeat Iowa here today, 12 to 0, and gain its first Western conference victory of the season.

A sparkling, smashing 24-yard dash off the Iowa left tackle by Don Veller, slippery little halfback from Linton, Ind., clinched the Indiana victory on the third play of the second half.

Veller, a twisting runner with plenty of speed, cut back once he passed the scrimmage line and, running almost without interference, slid out of the hands of three Hawkeye tacklers to cross the goal line standing up.

Flyers at Sault

Sault Ste. Marie—The Hammond Flying Service which has been stationed at St. Ignace during the past summer will move its base to Sault Ste. Marie this week.

The company has had two planes at the Mackinac county airport all summer, a Ryan six-passenger cabin plane and a Curtiss-Robin three-passenger ship which was used during the past months as a training ship. B. T. "Bud" Hammond has been in charge of the service at St. Ignace.

Manistique Wins From Newberry Squad, 13-7

Manistique, Oct. 15. (Special)—Unleashing a spirited 45 yard drive down the field in the middle of the fourth quarter which resulted in a touchdown after Newberry had tied the score early in the same quarter, Manistique punched over a 13-7 victory before several hundred spectators who braved a driving rain to witness the struggle. Both teams uncorked sustained attacks using straight football, line plunges and off tackle plays.

Manistique lost two scoring chances early in the first quarter when a punting duel between Capt. Ekdahl and Erickson gave the locals the ball in Newberry territory. Ekdahl's fumble and a grounded pass on fourth down repulsed both attacks. Ekdahl, Rubick and Rogers found big holes in the Newberry forward wall for large gains.

Each Team Scores

Early in the second quarter Manistique secured a break which resulted in their first touchdown when a long pass from Ekdahl to Hupfer found a resting place in the latter's hands. Hupfer catching the ball while lying flat on his back after the pass had been fumbled by two Newberry players and placing the ball on Newberry's eight yard line. Rogers then went through the line for six yards and a line buck by Ekdahl resulted in the touchdown. Ekdahl went through the line for the extra point.

Newberry, playing for a break didn't start a play from scrimmage until the middle of the second quarter and then were stopped cold by the green and white forwards. The Wassberg gridders amassed seven first downs to none for Newberry in the first half.

Starting from their own fourteen yard line early in the third quarter, Manistique with Ekdahl shouldering the brunt of the offence, advanced the ball to midfield where they were forced to punt. A poor kick by Ekdahl gave the Celery City lads the ball on their own 34 yard line from where they launched a surprising offense, Lyyski, Villemure, Erikson and Peters on a series of delayed bucks and line plunges, made a first down on Manistique's three yard line early in the fourth quarter from where Peters lugged it over in two attempts. Peters circled left end for the extra point.

Score Winning Tally

With Ekdahl doing the major part of the ball carrying, Manistique began a counter drive. With the ball on the Newberry 34 yard line, a penalty for slugging made it first down on the 17 yard strip. Straight football gave the local's a first down on the two yard line from where Ekdahl plunged over for the final score.

Rogers was stopped when he attempted to crash the line for the extra point. With five minutes left to play, Manistique again threatened to score, but lacked the required punch. The game ended with the ball in Newberry's possession on their own twenty yard line.

The wet ball almost completely stopped the aerial game, Manistique completing two passes and Newberry none. Manistique made 11 first downs to Newberry's six.

JORDAN BEATS RIPON FROSH

Escanaba Boys Star As Menominee School Wins, 32 to 0

Menominee, Mich., Oct. 15, (Special)—Led by McMilliams, speedy 207-pound fullback of Chicago, Jordan college opened its 1932 football season with an impressive victory over Ripon Frosh 32 to 0, here this afternoon.

Former gridiron stars of St. Joseph and Escanaba high school shone throughout the encounter. Bob Snyder, playing at right end, gave a wonderful exhibition of blocking, and paved the way to most of Jordan's touchdowns. Rubens was in at tackle for about three quarters of the game, and Legault, Wilson and Poquette also showed up well in the line.

Jordan scored 14 first downs to Ripon's four.

In the first quarter interference was ruled on a pass from McWilliams to Ockstadt, giving Jordan possession of the ball on the one yard line. Then, Combes went off tackle for the first touchdown.

Corsi recovered a Ripon fumble on the 11 yard line in the second quarter. The ball was advanced to the one yard line, from where McWilliams took it over for the second touchdown on a line plunge.

A Ripon fumble paved the way for another touchdown in the third quarter. Shaver dropped on the ball on Ripon's 22 yard line. McWilliams crashed off right tackle for a touchdown. He ran the ball off right tackle for the extra point.

A few minutes later Ockstadt blocked a kick on Ripon's 17 yard line. McWilliams hurtled through for six yards, and then Kaasker hit through center to score. McWilliams carried the ball off right tackle for the extra point. The final touchdown was made when Ockstadt blocked another punt on Ripon's 46 yard line and Legault of Escanaba dropped on the ball. Reinsmiller taking the ball on the next play for a touchdown with a brilliant 46-yard run.

Jordan sent in substitutes in the last quarter and made no serious effort to score.

RAMBLERS ROUT BULLDOGS, 62-0

Drake is Unable to Stop Notre Dame's Big Scoring Machine

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 15 (AP)—Grinding out touchdowns with monotonous regularity, the Notre Dame football machine today annihilated a courageous but weak band of Drake Bulldogs by a score of 62 to 0.

Four complete backfields and three lines were thrown into the fray by Coach "Hunk" Anderson in an effort to keep the score down but the point a minute policy continued, no, matter what combination he used.

Drake was never in the ball game after the first quarter. Insufficient reserve strength and inability to fathom the Rambler offense rendered them helpless against the perfect functioning green clad scoring machine.

Today's game marked the close of a seven year series between Notre Dame and Drake with all seven contests going to the Ramblers. Only in the last two years have the games been complete routs, however.

Flint, Oct. 14 (AP)—The 58th Michigan convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union ended its sessions here Friday with the passing of resolutions which urged a continued fight against repeal of existing liquor laws in the state and nation. The resolutions did not offer endorsement of any candidate or political party.

MARQUETTE IS WHIPPED, 24-0

Upbays Show Strength in Decisive Win in Spite of Heavy Rain

Gladstone, Oct. 15—Outplaying Marquette in every department of the game, the Gladstone high school gridders won their second game of the season today, 24 to 0. The game was played in a steady downpour of rain which drenched a crowd estimated at 500 and turned the field to grease. The uncertain footing had no apparent effect on the Gladstone team and they ploughed through the Marquette line for a total of 17 first downs. Marquette was able to make the necessary yardage for downs but 5 times. Gladstone reserves defeated St. Joseph's seconds, 7-0, in a preliminary.

Gladstone's first touchdown came early in the first quarter, when a 15-yard penalty and a short punt gave Gladstone the ball on Marquette's 28-yard line. Wright, Kircher and Larson alternated in advancing the ball to Marquette's 8-yard line and on a spinner play Kernz went over. An attempted line buck for the extra point failed. Score, Gladstone 6, Marquette 0.

One of Marquette's two scoring threats followed immediately. Kircher punted to Marquette's 50-yard line, after Marquette had kicked into the end zone and two attempts to advance the ball had failed. Marquette started a drive that carried them to Gladstone's 10-yard line, making 3 first downs. On the ten yard line Gladstone's forward wall stiffened and after three attempts to break through Marquette tried a pass into the end zone. This was mussed up. Gladstone punted out of danger as the quarter ended.

Gladstone's second touchdown came quickly after the second quarter opneed. Taking the ball on the midfield mark, Marquette failed to gain on two attempts. A blocked punt gave Gladstone the ball on their own 45-yard line. On the first play, Kernz broke through to the Marquette 37-yard line. Wright picked up two yards, Kernz made first down on three successive plays, on a spinner Kernz carried the ball to Marquette's 11-yard line, on a line buck he added 4 more, Wright went around end for three and Kernz plunged through the center and over the goal line. The kick was blocked. Score, Gladstone 12, Marquette 0.

Marquette kicked off and a third march toward the goal was started by Gladstone. When the half ended the ball rested on Marquette's 21-yard line. During the half, Gladstone made 7 first down to 4 for Marquette.

Gladstone's two touchdowns in the last half were both direct results of blocked punts. Marquette kicked to Wright who returned the ball to Gladstone's 30-yard line. Kircher punted to Marquette's 24-yard line. A Marquette passer was smeared for a 10-yard loss. A blocked punt gave Gladstone the ball on Marquette's 12-yard line. Kircher and Kernz advanced the ball to the 1-yard line and Kernz went over. The kick for the extra point was blocked. Score, Gladstone 18, Marquette 0.

Marquette's second scoring threat came in the final quarter, when the only bad punt of the game by Kircher was received by Marquette on Gladstone's 20-yard line. Marquette gained 6 yards through Gladstone's line on the first play, but on the next three tries were unable to pick up the four wards needed for the first down. They lacked only half a foot of making the needed yardage. Kircher, kicking from behind his own goal line, sent the soggy ball to the 40-yard line and out of danger.

Late in the half Gladstone scored when they blocked a punt on the Marquette 14-yard line and went over on successive plays. Again they failed to score the extra point, the kick being short. Score, Gladstone 24, Marquette 0.

Except for the two scoring threats Marquette never had the ball in Gladstone territory and on only one occasion in the game did Gladstone lose the ball on downs.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. Oct. 14 (AP)—A decrease of $169,887 in taxes for 1933 was announced Friday by the Chippewa county board of supervisors. The tax total for the county was reduced from $1,036,650.77 this year to $866,753.62 for 1933.

Nebraska Defeated By Minnesota, 7-6

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 15 (AP)—A place kick by big Jack Manders wobbled in a high wind, then bored its way uncertainly between the uprights today to provide an extra point and a 7 to 6 victory for Minnesota over Nebraska before 20,000 spectators.

Well advanced into Gopher territory, Sauer, Nebraska fullback, took advantage of the wind with a high, long pass to Bernie Masterson, who brought the ball to the Minnesota five-yard line for a gain of 34 yards.

Unable to advance further on line thrusts, as the Gophers braced, Sauer, desperate on the fourth down, hurled a pass far over the goal line which Masterson brought down in a brilliant catch for a touchdown.

Sauer's kick on the try for point went wide.

Knox Bows Before Chicago Maroons

Chicago, Oct. 15 (AP)—After a slow start the University of Chicago football team pushed over three touchdowns in the last quarter to defeat Knox college of Galesburg, Ill., 20 to 0, at Stagg field today.

Vinson Sahlin scored twice for Stagg's team and Pat Page once. Page added two points with kicks from placement.

Sahlin made the first Maroon tally on the third play in the last period and added his second touchdown of the game 15 seconds before the final gun was fired.

Page's touchdown came midway in the period. Each score was the result of continuous marches, twice from the Maroons' 45 yard line and once from Knox's 19-yard line.

WILDCATS WHIP ILLINOIS, 26-0

Northwestern Impresses Fans in Victory At Champaign

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Memorial Stadium, Champaign, Ill., Oct. 15 (AP)—Northwestern's Wildcats regained a big chunk of territory in their comeback campaign today by ripping out a 26 to 0 triumph over Illinois.

After Northwestern had muffed a chance to score in the first period, Pete Yanuskus, Illinois halfback, snatched one of Pug Rentner's passes and raced 52 yards before he was hauled down by the last man in his path. The Illinoi could not gain, however, and treatened no more until the fourth session.

Northwestern came to life in the second period and after Rentner had returned a punt 43 yards to Illinois' 31 yard line drove right through to the 10 yard line where Ollie Olson fired a pass to Ed Manske, who caught the ball while lying on his stomach. Olson's drop kick added the seventh point.

Rentner got away for 16 yards to start the second drive which came early in the third period. Olson finally piled through guard to score, but wasted the extra point. Only a few moments later Rentner sailed around right end for another score and Bill Riley place kicked the point.

Coach Dick Hanley sent in a backfield of substitutes in the final period and the youngsters staged another scoring march with Jakie Sullivan finishing up with a six yard twist through tackle.

PANTHERS BEAT ARMY BY 18-13

Heller and Skladany Are Stars in Game at West Point

BY ALAN GOULD
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—In a thrilling, desperately fought football battle high above the Hudson this afternoon, Army's hard-charging forces had the answer for everything the Pittsburgh Panthers offered except the combination of Warren Heller, versatile halfback, and Joe Skladany, elusive end.

These two stars combined to produce three touchdowns, offset the Cadets' spectacular comeback, and give Pittsburgh its fourth successive victory of the season, 18 to 13.

Heller pierced the Soldiers' defensive twice in the first half and then engineered the counter-thrusts that put the Panthers back in the lead to stay, in the last half, as Army's gallant rallies twice fell short of their objective.

Terrific Struggle

The crack Pitt halfback romped 54 yards for the first Panther touchdown, in the longest run of the game, and twice passed nearly half the length of the field to the glue-fingered Skladany, once over the goal line and later, in the critical third period, for a 48 yard gain that enabled Isadore Weinstock, plunging Pitt fullback, to go over for the deciding touchdown.

Pittsburgh's second straight conquest of the Army, in marked contrast to the route of the Cadets last year, was gained only after a terrific struggle. It was a heart-breaking setback for the Soldiers who outcharged their powerful rivals most of the afternoon and uncorked a passing attack that consistently harassed the anthers.

Army not only regained the lead in the third period, 13 to 12, after spotting Pittsburgh two touchdowns, but missed scoring a third time by only a yard and, in the closing moments of the game, passed twice to within a dozen yards of the Panther goal. The strong Pitt defense and the final whistle combined to put an end to this thrilling bid of the Cadets to overhaul their rivals.

West Point, though unable to check Heller and Skladany, piled up 17 first downs against 11 for Pittsburgh. The Cadets were outrushed 215 yards to 152 but completed nine passes for the extraordinary gain of 226 yards as compared with Pitt's advance of an even 100 yards via three aerials.

A crowd of 20,000 spectators alternately was thrilled by Pittsburg's touchdown thrusts, the resourcefulness of the Panther defense and Army's spectacular play in which the defensive work of Dick King of Georgetown, S. C., was outstanding. King's deadly tackling, as well as that of Capt Milton Summerfelt of Benton Harbor, Mich., stopped many of Pittsburgh's power drives.

Purdue Delighted With 7-6 Victory Over Badger Team

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 15 (AP)—The Purdue Boilermakers found the Wisconsin Badgers as pestiferous as ever this afternoon and were delighted with a 7 to 6 victory.

The slender margin of victory was the drop kick made by the unerring Paul Pardonner after Roy Horstman's touchdown in the second period.

Horstman had carried the ball one yard to the goal line after Jimmy Carter had dashed from near midfield almost across the Badger line.

Wisconsin's touchdown was made a few moments later on a beautiful forward pass tossed by Harold Smith to George Thurner, who in turn pitched the ball laterally to Milton Kummer. Kummer sprinted the few remaining yards to the Purdue goal posts untouched by the grasping hands of several Old Gold and Black players.

Joey Linfor tried to place kick but his effort was wide of the mark.

STATE IS GOOD TO THIS COUNTY

Returns Delta $2.49 For Every Dollar, Bruce Reports

For every dollar Delta county taxpayers have paid into the state treasury they have received $2.49 in return, Representative Helmer Bruce stated yesterday in discussing general tax problems with a Daily Press reporter.

According to Mr. Bruce, Delta county citizens have paid to the state during the last fiscal year, $100,057.08 in weight tax, $123,380.72 in gas tax, and $61,014.63 in general property tax, making a total payment to the state treasury of $284,452.43. The state tax unpaid at July 1, 1932, was $17,335.25.

In return, Delta county has received from the state, $85,794.86 in weight and gas tax, including $17,878.72 in township road tax relief; for highway maintenance, $81,361.03; highway construction, $185,119.38; primary school fund, $192,683.52; Turner bill distribution, $95,893.55; and maintenance of inmates from Delta county in state institutions, $67,363.28, making a total sum of state aid at $708,215.62, or an excess of $423,763.19 over the amount of taxes paid by Delta county citizens. In addition, this county also received $11,222.87 from the malt tax for the care of tuberculosis patients in sanitoria.

The 1932 state tax is $15,132.35 less than the 1931 levy in this county.

Mr. Bruce said that in 1933 the county will receive approximately $135,492.47 from the weight and gas tax, which will include $22,348.41 for township road tax relief and $56,572.03 new money from the Horton bill.

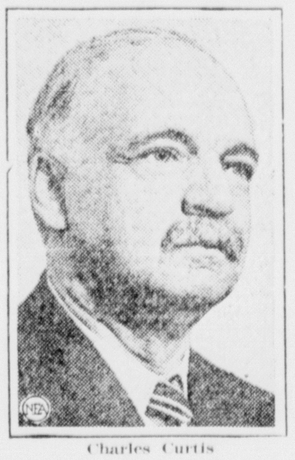
Some Money Misspent

Iron River—Speaking before the Lions' club yesterday noon in the Iron Inn, Robert Connor, custodian of the Miners' State bank and Twelfth district committeeman of the American Legion, attacked the Tyson act and veterans' disability allowance legislation.

His subject was "Taxation and the Veteran." Taxes must be reduced, he said, to avert a possible collapse of the economic and financial structure of the country.

The Tyson act, Connor stated, has to do with the officers' retirement fund, which he characterized as unwarranted and unjustified and very costly.

Across Party Fences



Charles Curtis

John N. Garner

EDITOR'S NOTE: This, the second of a series of 10 articles on candidates and leading figures in the presidential campaign, takes another look into each major political camp.

Washington, (AP)—If Charles Curtis' Kaw Indian grandmother had not persuaded him to go to his white-skinned relatives to obtain the greater advantages they could give him, the Kansan likely would not now be vice president—and republican nominee to succeed himself.

That urging sent him to Topeka, a high school course, an education in law, paid for partly by proceeds from hack-driving and fruit-vending—eventually, at 24, into the county prosecutor's job, and then into congress.

He looks back now on a career in Washington virtually uninterrupted since that entry in 1892—the greater part of his 72 years.

First in the lower house, until 1907, and then in the senate, except for an interlude from 1912 to 1914, he served continuously until election to the vice presidency in 1928 traded his republican leadership in the senate for the duty of presiding over its deliberations. Late in 1931, his announcement of intention to seek reelection was among the first in the campaign.

Rarely a speaker in congress, Curtis is in the present campaign with an active rating on the stump. In the 1928 fight he spoke virtually every day over a sustained period.

His hobby is horse racing—now as a spectator, but once as a jockey. He bears the scar of injuries received years ago when a wild mount broke through a fence and hurled him down an embankment.

Washington, (AP)—It was the transfer to Franklin D. Roosevelt of the delegates pledged to John N. Garner that turned the tide at the democratic national convention.

Thereby, through the strategy of friends behind the Garner presidential boom, the vice presidential nomination came to the Texan who since 1903 has represented the fifteenth Texas district in the house—a district almost as large as the state of Maine.

This dramatic development marked the second time within a year that preferment had come to "Cactus Jack" as home folk in Uvalde, Texas, and friends elsewhere call him. Already with democratic control of the house had come his elevation to the speakership only a short time before occupied by his republican friend, the late Nicholas Longworth.

The path up from the ranks to this place of power has been marked with many battles. As minority leader of the ways and means committee his emphatic and picturesque oratory often has flayed republican tariff and tax plans. Nor were color and dramatic interest lacking when as speaker he made an impassioned plea for a balanced budget.

His training as a speaker goes back 30 years ago when he campaigned on horseback through his Texas district. His persuasive powers won him his congress berth then, and his constituents have been consistent in returning him to it.

NOTED AVIATRIX HERE MONDAY

Blanche Noyes to Talk Before Students and Kiwanians

Blanche W. Noyes, whose standing among the woman flyers of the country ranks with that of Amelia Earhart and Ruth Nichols, will be in Escanaba Monday to deliver thre lectures concerning her thrilling and interesting experiences in aviation. She will talk before the student assembly of the Escanaba senior high scchool at 10:10 a. m.; the Kiwanis luncheon at the Ludington hotel at noon; and the junior high school assembly at 1:05 p. m.

Mrs. Noyes, the wife of Dewey L. Noyes, chief pilot for the Good Will department of the Standard Oil company, was one of the first women to fly the autogyro.

Members of the Kiwanis club are asked by Henry F. Anderson, the club's program chairman, to report at the Ludington hotel promptly at 12 o'clock noon since Mr. Noyes' talk will begin at 12:30 p. m. Walter Arntzen, well known Escanaba aviator, and his wife, who recently received the first pilot's license granted to an Escanaba woman, will be guests of the club at the luncheon. Friends of Kiwanians are also cordially invited to attend.

Adults are also invited to attend either of the student assemblies at the schools. A small admission fee will be charged.

OBITUARY

CELIA M. FRENN

Many out-of-town friends and relatives from Milwaukee and Iron Mountain are expected in Escanaba for the funeral of Miss Celia M. Frenn, which will be held Monday at 9 a. m. at St. Patrick's church. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery. The pallbearers will be: James Herro, George Herro, Philip Herro, Charles Bonamer, George Bonamer and Alfred Bonamer.

Miss Frenn was raised practically as a daughter by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Frenn, 1829 Third avenue north, ever since the death of her mother, Marie, 18 years ago, and was generally considered as a sister to Dr. Nathan J. Frenn and James J. Frenn.

MRS. EVA KESSLER

St. Joseph's church was the scene of impressive funeral services for Mrs. Eva Kessler Saturday at 9 a. m. The Rev. Fr. Edward Leary officiated at the last rites, and burial was in Lakeview cemetery. The pallbearers were: Edward Moersch, Joseph Urwan, Peter Groos, John Lemmer, William Harvey and Nick Gunter. Honorary pallbearers from the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters were: Mrs. J. G. Hanson, Mrs. Adolph Hemes, Mrs. Henry Breault, Mrs. Joseph Rousseau, Mrs. Ed Vandenboom and Mrs. Anna Bink.

Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Brooks and daughter Margaret of Houghton and N. A. Kessler of St. Paul were members of the family here for the funeral.

MRS. ALICE BRIER

Iron Mountain—Mrs. Alice Brier, 39, a resident of Iron Mountain for the last ten years, died at 4:50 o'clock Friday morning at the Iron Mountain General hospital, following an illness of one month due to peritonitis.

Mrs. Brier was born November 19, 1892, at Schaffer, Mich. She moved to Iron Mountain from Escanaba ten years ago.

Besides her husband, Edward Brier, two sons and two daughters survive. They are Ramond and Edward Jr., and Mrs. Bernice Glass and Miss Orabella Brier, all of this city.

There are also six sisters and six brothers. They are Mrs. Charles Oslund and Mrs. Adelore Pare, Escanaba; Mrs. Harry Riopelle, Marquette, and Mrs. Fred Derouin and Mrs. John Paruleski, of this city, and John, Alex, Henry, Joseph, George and Raymond, all of Chicago.

Mrs. Brier resided at 88 Henford avenue, East Kingsford.

LOUIS BIRON

The body of Louis Biron, of Appleton, former resident of this city, who died Friday morning of pneumonia, will be brought to Escanaba Monday, following services at Appleton, for burial in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Old friends of the family here will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll, 317 South Tenth street, at 1:15 o'clock Monday afternon, and will form a motor escort to meet the funeral procession and accompany it part way to Escanaba.

Funeral rites at the cemetery will be conducted by Rev. Father Edward Leary, pastor of St. Joseph's church. Pallbearers will be Henry Roemer, Charles Follo, Otto Scheriff, Henry Longtine, William Denton and Kenneth Baker. The Allo Funeral Home will be in charge.

Accompanying the body of Mr. Biron here will be Mrs. Biron and Miss Mary Spect, Mrs. Biron's sister.

JOSEPH PATTERSON

Of interest to many Escanaba residents, friends of the family, is the following item, taken from a Duluth paper, telling of the death of Joseph R. Patterson, former Escanaban, work of which was received here a few days ago:

"Final rites for Joseph R. Patterson, aged 72, assistant manager of the Paine, Webber & Co. brokerage offices here, who died yesterday, will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p. m. from the family residence, 1859 Wallace avenue, with burial in Forest Hill cemetery.

"Born in Owen Sound, Ont., March 10, 1860, Mr. Patterson spent his early days in the employ of railroads in the Lake Superior area. In 1878 at Negaunee, Mich., he entered the employ of the Chicago & Northwestern railway and later, with the late W. F. Fitch, was with the ore shipping department of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railway at Marquette. In 1901 he became superintendent and harbor master for the Clergue corporation in Michipicoten, Ont., and in 1905 moved to Duluth where he entered the employ of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad. He joined the Duluth office of Paine, Webber & Co. in 1907.

"Mr. Patterson was a member of the Glen Avon Presbyterian church, Glen Avon lodge, No. 306, A. F. & A. M., the Northland Country club, the Chamber of Commerce and the iKtchi Gammi club.

"Mr. Patterson is survived by his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Floyd Lawson, San Diego, Cal., and Mrs. Ben C. McCabe, Duluth; two sisters, Mrs. Agnes L. Wicks and Miss Anna K. Patterson, Denver; a brother, W. J., Los Angeles, and three granddaughters."

DEATH CLAIMS JAMES A. KING

Survivor of Peshtigo Fire Dies at Son's Home In Wells

James A. King, 88, a survivor of the historic Peshtigo fire, died at the home of his son, James E. King, 10 Harland avenue, Wells, 3:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon after a several weeks' illness due to heart disease.

Mr. King was bor nin St. Lawrence county, New York, Aug. 20, 1844. He came to Wisconsin in 1869, settling first in the Sugar Bush settlement. When the Peshtigo conflagration swept through the northeastern section of Wisconsin he was one of the large force of men who fought the flames. He was engaged at farming and lumbering for many years in Marinette county. Following his retirement, he stayed for about a dozen years with his daughter, Mrs. John Fezatte, at LaBranche, later going to Marinetter to make his home with relatives. About a year ago, Mr. King came to live with his son, James, in Wells.

He is survived by two sons and one daughter, James of Wells, William of Marinette, and Mrs. John Fezatte, now of Chicago; three sisters, Mrs. Jessie Smith, Ellis Jct., Wis.; Mrs. Julius Henquitz, Little Rock, Ark.; and Mrs. Louis Stevens, Marinette; and also 14 grand children and 27 great grandchildren.

The body was taken to the Anderson funeral home to be prepared for burial.

The body will be removed to the family home today and services will be conducted at 3:30 o'clock with Werner Acker, Rapid River and A. M. Boomer, Wells, officiating.

Monday the body will be shipped to Marinette and funeral services will be conducted Tuesday at the Martin Funeral Chapel. Burial will be in the Forest Home cemetery.

Save --- Don't Hoard

There is a vast difference between saving and hoarding.

The hoarded dollar draws no interest, is an invitation to thugs and thieves, and being out of circulation retards progress.

The saved dollar draws a goodly rate of interest, is safe, and being in circulation helps to promote prosperous times.
